Menlo Council Endorses County Sales Tax

Schools Get $12,000 Tax Windfall

$2000 Science Program Is Proposed

Menlo Park Elementary School District will have $12,000 more in its budget than was anticipated before a county assessor's report was filed earlier this month, trustees were told Monday night, and out of this some $2000 may be allocated to augment science programs in the schools.

The unexpected revenue will allow the school district to restore some capital outlay items to its budget, which were "pruned" earlier as the trustees studied preliminary documents, according to District Business Manager John Richert.

At present, plans call for utilizing the district's full permissive tax rate of $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation, and making use of "overriding" tax rates which will bring the school district's total levy to $2.46 per $100 assessed valuation. The district's proposed budget for the 1956-57 year is expected to be in the neighborhood of $1,048,957.

The district already has some science instruction in the classrooms, but does not have sufficient equipment to operate the program which it would like to have for seventh and eighth grade pupils in Oak Knoll, Hillview and Encinal schools.

Ennio Ciolli, principal at Laurel school and "science specialist" for the district, explained that an expenditure of $600 to $700 per school would allow teachers to give about three hours of science instruction a week.

District Curriculum Consultant Paul R. Stouffer pointed out that such a program would "fill out" the present teaching practices under which seventh and eighth grade pupils are made aware of such basic scientific entities as matter, energy of various types, the various branches of science, and conservation and use of various kinds of energy and resources.

PURPOSE

The district is concerned, he said, with making pupils aware of science and its contributions to better living.

John Martin, principal of Hillview school, observed that the only problem he saw in thus systemitizing science instruction was that it might be difficult to set up a teaching schedule, under which qualified seventh and eighth grade teachers could leave their own classes to instruct others. He said he hoped the schedule could be worked out without leaving "study hall" sessions.

In other actions, the school board:

Toured Central school's grounds, corporation yard and storage rooms, to acquaint itself with the variety of facilities which the district would lose if it turned the property over to the state;

Heard a report from Ed Light, district inspector at Oak Knoll school, on progress of construction there. Light said that, if carpenters stay on the job, the six-classroom addition should be completed by mid-August;

Changed the date of hte district's annual budget hearing from Aug. 1 to Aug. 6, at which time the trustees will also receive a report from Stanford university on a continuing county school population survey;

Authorized the borrowing of $225,000 from the county, to tide the district over until tax monies are received in December.

Expect to Hold Tax Rate:

Fire District Board Approves New Budget over Half Million

A budget of over a half million dollars was okayed Monday night by commissioners of the Menlo Park Fire Protection District. It is expected that the tax rate will remain the same under the new budget — approximately 70 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The final figure, $500,800, is $7000 higher than the preliminary budget set up May 28. The increase will go into a capital outlay fund, increasing the amount allocated to $38,500.

Main increase in the budget, which is $32,700 higher than last year, will go for salaries. Included in the budget is a $25 raise for firemen which amounts to about five and a half percent.

Commissioners, in computing the budget, counted on about a six percent increase in assessed valuation in the district, and the budget, they said, was worked out so that the tax rate will be no more than this year.

Taxes this year for the fire district were $.702 per $100 assessed valuation.

The commissioners pointed out that they are working toward recommendations of the Board of Fire Underwriters, who have called for more equipment and men.

In increasing the capital outlay fund, the commissioners said they felt their original budgeted amount of $31,700 was on the conservative side. Much of the money allocated to this fund will go for the purchase of two new rigs to be delivered in the fall.

Major items in the new budget are for salaries, $377,000; hydrants, $18,000; supplies and firehouse expense, $8500; gasoline, $2500; truck and automobile expense, $3500; insurance, $17,000.

Two Beaten In Armed Robbery Here

Visco Grgich, former San Francisco '49er football player and W. T. Fairey, 72-year-old resident at 122 Watkins avenue, were yesterday going through stacks of pictures of men with armed robbery records.

Purpose of the search was to attempt to identify the two men who robbed them, Monday night, in a holdup and pistol-whipping at G-C Liquors store at 1830 El Camino Real. The store is outside the city limits and the incident is being investigated by sheriff's officers.

The holdup men, both of whom were armed, escaped with about $10.

Grgich, who currently resides at 3443 Rambow drive in Palo Alto, told sheriff's officers that he was sacking shelves in the store at about 10:10 p.m. Monday when the pai rentered the store. Both produced guns and ordered him into the stockroom at the rear of the store.

They fished an estimated $2 out of his pockets, Grgich said, and then ordered him to lie, face down, on the stockroom floor.

One of the men then went back into the front of the store and attempted to open the cash register.

At this point, Fairey walked in.

CUSTOMER

He too was taken to the stock room, and after the bandits took an estimated $8 out of his pockets, was told to lie down.

At this point, one of the men was heard to observe that the holdup was a "lousy deal, not worth the trouble." The two then returned to the rear of the store and hit the former football player and the customer on the heads with their pistols. They then ran out.

Grgich, who wasn't injured by the blow except for a small contusion, jumped up and called sheriff's officers. He said he didn't hear any cars start up, and thought the men departed on foot.

He described one of the men as being about five feet, one inch tall and weighing about 120 pounds and of about 30-34 years of age. The other was about five feet, four inches tall, appeared to weigh about 145 pounds and appeared to be of Latin-American ancestry.

State Okays Water Rate Boost Here

The California Public Utilities Commission last week authorized the California Water Service Co. to increase rates in four northern California districts, including that of most of Menlo Park, Atherton and Woodside. The new rates become effective as of Aug. 1.

The decision concerns some 11,700 customers in this area. The increase amounts to 13.9 per cent for the Bear Gulch system, which is that which covers this area.

The commission's decision said "The evidence demonstrates that applicant is in need of and entitled to increased revenues. We find that the specific rates . . . which applicant proposes are in themselves reasonable. . . ."

Increased taxes, higher wages and increased construction costs were given as reasons, by witnesses for CWS, for asking for the increase.

Under the new rate, a service charge of $2.25 is made on each customer, and 26½ cents per hundred cubic feet of water used is added.

Under present rates, the first 50 feet costs $1.85 and a fixed charge is made for additional hundreds of cubic feet delivered to the consumer.

Council:

GETS THE BIRD

Menlo Park's City Council got the bird Tuesday night.

In the midst of council proceedings, the bird—a blueish-grayish parakeet—hopped in through the open door of the council chambers to join a packed audience.

Far from being disturbed at the proceedings, the feathered friend hopped and chirped and flew about the room before picking a particular friend, 6-year-old Brian Markuse, on whose hand he settled down.

When Brian left the meeting some 15 minutes later, the bird left with him and was turned over to the care of Police Officer Terry Scott, on duty at the nearby police department offices. Brian regretfully remembered that, even should some one fail to claim the bird, he couldn't keep him because his mother is allergic to birds.

His friend, however, will not lack for a home. Officer Scott, who says he has a boy at home who'd love to have a pet, hung a sign on the temporary cage:

"Property of T. L. Scott if not claimed."

Hearing Set On Temple Permit

Public hearing on issuance of a use permit for a temple of Jehovah's Wtinesses on Carlton avenue between Bay road and Bayshore highway has been set by the City Council for 8 p.m. Aug. 14.

Before setting the hearing date, councilmen Tuesday night heard written protests against issuance of the permit, recommended by the planning commission.

Atherton Study Group Asks Burgess to Join

Veteran Menlo Park Councilman Charles Burgess has been asked to join members of a committee studying flood control in the area adjoining the Atherton drainage ditch.

The committee, appointed by Atherton mayor George Linsley last month, consists of engineers, financiers and other in Atherton and unincorporated areas. Burgess was asked by members of the committee to represent Menlo Park on the group, according to Samuel Graf, chairman of the committee.

Graf said the committee has decided not to publish specific information on its study until they were ready to submit conclusions to the Atherton town council.

The group has met for the last two Thursdays to cover their general plan of attack and to review financial matters.

At a meeting today, they will begin to consider the engineering soundness of a $900,000 plan submitted by Ed Smith, who is city engineer for both Atherton and Menlo Park.

Smith's proposal covers an area roughly bounded by Bayshore highway and the Alameda and by Oak Grove avenue and Atherton avenue.

The flood study group meets in the homes of its members.

Formula:

0, 1, 40: SOLD

None, then one, then forty!

That was the experience of a Menlo Park woman who wanted to sell some "almost new" carpeting for $3 a yard.

She told this newspaper Monday that she had previously advertised the carpeting in the classified section of a San Francisco paper, with no results. She then tried another newspaper for three days, she said, and received one telephone query.

Last Thursday she placed a three-line notice in the combined Want Ad section of the Menlo Park Recorder, Ravenswood Post, and Mid-Peninsula Buy Word. Then her phone started ringing — for a total, she reports, of some 40 calls—and she sold her carpeting.

That three-line notice, going into more than 19,000 homes in the Menlo Park, Atherton, Woodside, and East Palo Alto area—all right nearby for fast action—cost her only $1.20.

To place your Want Ad, phone DA 3-6118 and ask for Mrs. Worth. She will be glad to help you plan your message.

Hints Heavy Slash In Property Levy

Menlo Park's city council unanimously declared itself as favoring a county-wide additional one-cent sales tax Tuesday night—with the condition that it not be effective unless a similar tax is instituted in Santa Clara county.

Discussion prior to voting also indicated that predominant opinion among city fathers would go along with Councilman Charles P. Burgess's suggestion that any sales tax revenues be used about half for reduction of the property tax levy and half for capital improvements. This, Burgess said, could be put in the form of an ordinance which would commit the funds and which could not be changed without public action to repeal.

To achieve this 50-50 split, Burgess suggested that 40 percent of the sales tax revenues be committed to the general fund of the city, thus directly reducing the property tax rate.

The balance, he said, could be used to finance present and future bonded indebtedness of the city. Since, in the 1956-57 tax rate there will be some 7 cents required to pay off exisiting bond issues, the removal of this from the property burden would approximate another 10 percent in property tax reduction.

Future large capital outlay items, Burgess said, could be presented to the people in bond issues, which would then be paid off out of the sales tax. This would leave, also, some of the funds for smaller pay-as-you-go undertakings.

'DESIRABLE'

Dr. Vaughan D. Bornet, 343 McKendry drive, who previously had circulated to councilmen a statement describing the sales tax as "the wrong tax, for the benefit of the wrong governmental units, at the wrong time," declared that his position remained unchanged but that the 50-50 split of funds would be "desirable if we must have the tax."

Burgess credited Bornet's statement with changing his mind from a previously discussed proposal that about 25 percent of the tax funds should be used to reduce the property levy.

Businessman Jerry Jacobs, a director of the chamber, also declared himself in favor of the tax, commenting that, "If we get the money for park and recreational facilities, it is conceivable that we could put the 'Park' back in Menlo'."

Following the discussion, the resolution was passed so that the city's representative at a county-wide meeting today could give Menlo Park's position clearly to the officials present from other cities.

With Brief Skirmish:

Menlo Park Pushes Boundary Further in Double Annexation

In a brief skirmish Tuesday night, Menlo Park continued its westward expansion with annexation of seven parcels of property. The city thus pushed its "frontiers" to a solid line along Lemon street between Stanford and Santa Cruz avenues.

Protesting the annexation moves were Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Chamberlain, 797 Santa Cruz, owners of the home on the corner of Lemon. All six of the others owners approved the action.

The seven parcels were annexed in two separate actions, since the area is divided by the Menlo Woods subdivision of Stendeil and O'Neill, which was annexed several months ago.

NO CONSENT

Protesting, in behalf of the Chamberlains, the measure which annexed the four parcels fronting on Santa Cruz, Attorney Richard T. Clark urged that the one lot be omitted. He pointed out that, without consent of the owners they could not be taxed to pay off already existing bonded indebtedness of the city, such as the $70,000 still outstanding for the 1947 purchase of the civic center and Burgess Park recreation area. This item currently is financed by a 2-cent item on the city tax rate.

Councilman Charles P. Burgess declared himself "very reluctant" to see anyone taken into the city who is not on the same basis as other residents, sharing equally in the city tax burden. "I would rather see this one parcel excluded unless the owners are willing to pay their full share," he said.

City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr., in response to a query from Burgess, said that the law would not allow the proposed annexation area to be reduced by more than 5 per cent without undertaking an entirely new measure.

OTHERS IN FAVOR

With this, and an evident feeling that to eliminate the one corner lot would create an unreasonable boundary, all other councilmen expressed their intention of approving the annexation despite the single protest.

"We can't force people to assume their citizenship," commented Councilman William R. Lawson. "There are slackers even inside the city. To hold up the annexation on this basis would, in my opinion, be wrong."

Clark rose to refute the "aspersions" cast on his clients, declaring that they did not ask to come into the city. Their only weapon, he said, was to refuse consent to taxation for such pre-existing obligations.

On a roll call, the ordinance to annex the properties was introduced unanimously.

On the three properties involved at the Stanford avenue corner, there were no protests, and the action was approved without delay.

American Trust Buys Park, Library Bonds

Menlo Park this week borrowed $220,000 at an interest rate of 2.892 per cent for construction of its new library building and development of park facilities.

The City Council, in its Tuesday night session, awarded bonds in that amount, authorized by the city's voters in April elections, to the American Trust Co., one of three bidders for the issue.

Total interest cost of the American Trust Co. offer will run over the 24-year period of securities, to $78,965, it was estimated by Councilman Charles P. Burgess and Assistant City Manager John R. Johnson.

10 Firms Ask Hearing on Beer Sale Ban

Ten liquor licensees, accused of selling beer of more than 3.2 per cent alcoholic content within a 1½ miles radius of Stanford, have served notice that they want a hearing on the matter.

Frank Fullenwider, area liquor control chief, offered 31 restaurants and markets in the area accused of selling four per cent beer a 15-day suspension, with 10 days stayed, in lieu of a hearing.

Twelve of the accused persons have accepted the suspensions, while nine licensees have not informed the State Department of Alcoholic Control of their intentions.

Six suspensions went into effect July 5, Fullenwider said, and three more will be effective July 26.

Virtually every restaurant and market in Menlo Park was affected by the clamp down, apparently sparked by a private Palo Alto liquor control group.

Those who have requested hearings will appear before a hearing officer at an undetermined date in Red wood City. The hearing officer will then make recommendations to Russel Monroe, state alcoholi control chief, who will make a ruling on the matter.

Touring Fire Board Finds District Ship-Shape

Menlo Park Fire District commissioners, touring the Menlo Park Fire District Saturday morning, expressed satisfaction with district installations.

The district will continue to work for better salaries and conditions for firemen, Commission Chairman C. Vernon Barker of Atherton told personnel at the stations, in informal talks given as a part of the commissioners' annual tour.

Barker reminded firemen that although the district's budget for the coming year will be in the neighborhood of $495,000, a large share of this must be turned aside from wages in order to finance capital outlay improvements needed to give adequate protection for the district's growing population.

Nevertheles, he said, more than 75 percent of the coming year's budget will be spent for salaries for the 66-man force which mans the six stations of the district.

Commissioner George Tuft, newest member of the commission, was introduced; station captains at the individual installations greeted the board members as they arrived, with District Chief George Carter.

ON FORMAL VISIT—Commissioners of the Menlo Park Fire District Saturday visited all six stations of the firefighting agency to view the installations themselves, the state of mobile equipment, and the men assigned to each station. Above, at East Palo Alto's station 2, the commissioners are shown with half of the firemen assigned there; the inspection party, at left, includes Commissioner Wallace E. Ott of Menlo Park, Commissioner George Tuft of the Menlo Oaks area, who represents unincorporated areas on the district governing board; District Chief George Carter and Fire District Commission Chairman C. Vernon Barker of Atherton.

AMRETTE OTT

Amrette Ott Named Miss Menlo-Atherton

Miss Menlo-Atherton is 18-year-old Amrette Ott, a sophomore at Colorado University(who edged Wardene Miller of Atherton, for the local title during judging Sunday.

Miss Ott will represent the two cities when judges select the "dream girl" for the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta Thursday, July 19.

The new queen, a runner-up in a national Miss Rheingold contest recently, is 5 feet, 7½ inches and weighs 125 pounds with a 36, 24, 36 figure.

She returned to Menlo Park several days before the contest from a trip down the Colorado river. Beside river running, she lists her hobbies as mountain climbing, sewing and cooking.

Nine girls, including a set of twins applying as a single entry, were contestants in the contest.

During the first round of judging, Miss Ott, Miss Miller, Yvonne Tomasena and Diane Sullivan were selected for further competition by judges Mayor George Ford, Atherton Councilman John Licata and Mike Belangie.

Miss Menlo-Atherton was presented with a trophy and camera, while the other three girls received $5 merchandise certificates from a Menlo Park women's shop.

The girl selected as fiesta "dream girl" will preside over the country fair Aug. 3-11, and will be this county's candidate for queen of the state fair during the last part of August.

The local contest was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

University Ave. Extension Studied

Whether or not University avenue should be extended to Dumbarton bridge will be studied by the East Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce, it was decided by directors of the C of C at their regular meeting Monday.

Attempts to have the street extended to the bridge have been made, off and on, during the past 20 years; first such moves were initiated by the late Hy Stubbe.

"We have to move now," a spokesman for the Chamber said this week, "before all possible paths for such an extension are blocked by new homes or new industries."

Such an extension, the spokesman said, would be of benefit to East Palo Alto in that it would provide the area with a direct connection with the east bay. At present, commercial traffic as well as other types has to travel to the Willow-Bayshore intersection, before swinging south to the East Palo Alto business area.

With new commercial development east of the highway, this will mean additional miles and more left turns from the freeway, for trucks, as the commercial area grows.

A San Francisco water department right-of-way extends part of the way to the bridge approach, from its present terminus at Bay road.

Dinkelspiel Again Heads County GOP

John W. Dinkelspiel, Atherton attorney was Tuesday night re-elected chairman of the San Mateo county Republican Central Committee, at that group's official organization meeting at the courthouse in Redwood City.

John Lehman of Menlo Park was elected third district chairman and Mrs. Virginia Cary, also of this city, was welcomed as a newly-elected member. Mrs. Arno Singhoff of Atherton was designated a reporter to the group's publication.

Dinkelspiel instructed members to prepare lists of names of associate members to be presented at the next meeting to be held Aug. 1 at 8 p.m. at Republican headquarters, 859 North San Mateo drive, San Matco.

Optimism, but:

Building Activity Slows Here As Carpenters' Strike Opens

Building activity appeared to be slowing down somewhat in Menlo Park this week, as the result of a bay-area-wide carpenters' strike, but a survey yesterday by Building Inspector J. D. Stieger indicated that some key projects were still going ahead.

Too, he said, optimism about the outcome of the work stoppage seemed evident, as individuals have continued to apply for building permits for a variety of pending construction projects.

Reason work can continue in some cases, in spite of the strike, he said, appeared to be that interim agreements have been reached between contractors and carpenters' unions.

Hence work on such buildings as Oak Knoll school addition number 3, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's office in Linfield Oaks and on apartment houses and single-family dwellings in various parts of the city is continuing.

On the other hand, carpenters are off the job at the Argonaut Insurance Exchange Company building at Santa Monica avenue and Middlefield road, although electricians, plumbers, sheet metal workers and other construction specialists were still on the job, as of Tuesday.

The contract cost of the Argonaut office is $504,000.

Work on the first two-story building to be constructed in downtown Menlo Park in the past 20 years—the Forsythe building at Curtis street and Santa Cruz avenue—was halted, Steiger said.

Work is well along on the Menlo Fire District's shop and classroom building at headquarters station, Fire District Chief George Carter reported. Carpenters may be off the job, but specialists in other phases of construction work are continuing with their labors.

Fire District Lets Contract For Gasoline

Tidewater Oil Company, suppliers of gasoline to the Menlo Park Fire Protection District for the last two years, again entered the low bid at a meeting of the commissioners Monday night.

Six bids were received in answer to a call by the fire district for at least 6000 gallons of ethyl gasoline. Tidewater's bid was $.2351, while Richfield was next lowest with $.238. Highest bidders were General Petroleum and Union Oil at $.264.

In other actions the commissioners:

Okayed attendance of Chief George Carter at a Governor's Conference on Fire Prevention July 23 in Sacramento.

Decided to meet in informal session with the Menlo Park City Council next Tuesday night to discuss mutual problems.

Okayed a week's stay at the Red Cross Aquatic School, near Fresno, for Captain Loren Grider, expenses to be paid by the Red Cross.

Heard a report by Captain Dan Hollywood on an Arson course he attended in Berkeley with Deputy Chief Edwin Wickstrom.

Homfeld at Meet For Study Of 'Gifted'

This week, Menlo Park Superintendent of Schools Dr. Melville J. Homfeld traveled to Los Angeles to attend a one-day session of the State Committee for the Study of the Gifted Child.

Dr. Homfeld is one of the approximately 20 committee members involved in the creation of better educational opportunities for gifted children, both in their home districts and now at a statewide level.

Formed several years ago to study possibilities for improving the education of the gifted in California public schools, both through state legislation and activity of the state's department of education, the committee expects to culminate its work this next school year.

Possibilities being considered for recommendation include: special taxes; use of special funds similar to those used for the education of other exceptional children; special schools; special state curriculum provisions; statewide research projects, and all other courses of action practicable at a state level.

The committee met Tuesday, July 10, in the administrative building of the Los Angeles city schools in an all-day meeting beginning at 9:30 a.m. The purpose of this meeting of the committee is the drafting of a written statement of its activities.

Dr. Homfeld returned to the district Wednesday.

Menlo Man Heads Varian Sales Meet

Sixty field representatives are expected to attend Varian Associates annual sales seminar being held today. The convention room at Rickey's, Palo Alto, has been reserved by the electronics firm for the all day briefing on Varian products which are sold all over the world. Jack Silhavy of Menlo Park, commercial sales manager for Varian associates, will open the morning session and conduct the luncheon forum.

Responsible for the major portion of the firm's $10 million backlog of orders, Varian's field representatives maintain offices in all major business centers of the United States and throughout the world. During the intensive one-day sales convention they will see several new Varian products demonstrated and will attend theory review lectures by Varian engineers who also will conduct experiments and demonstrations of microwave tubes and other electronic equipment.

SRI Sends Team To India Area

(SRI)—Dr. Weldon B. Gibson, associate director of Stanford Research Institute, has announced that his organization is sending a team of four industrial economists to India to assist with the development of small industries as a part of India's Second Five-Year Plan. The group will work under an SRI contract with India's Department of Commerce and Industry.

Heading the group, which will spend two years in India, is Dr. Raymond H. Ewell, who is returning to SRI after three years leave-of-abstnce as assistant director for program anaylsis in the National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C. Dr. Ewell and his family left for New Dehli July 9.

Boy, 11, Unhurt As Car Hits Bike

An 11-year-old boy was uninjured Saturday when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car, Menlo Park police report.

The lad, Bill Gross of 81 Victoria drive in Atherton, was riding his bicycle north on the sidewalk along El Camino Real's 1300 block when he rode into the path of an auto operated by W. A. Therein, 66, of 703 Curtis street. Therein was entering the highway from a driveway at the time.

The boy was taken to Menlo Medical center for examination but, police said, no injuries were found.

Ten building fires were reported by the fire district during June.

'Illegal Entry':

East Palo Alto Man, Threatened With Deportation, Commits Suicide

Apparently despondent at the prospect of being deported because of illegal entry into the United States, Ruben Barrow was foun dhanging in the garage of his home at 1087 Bay road Monday.

Barrow, who owned a janitorial service, was charged with entering the country illegally three years ago by jumping ship in Portland, Ore. He was scheduled to be deported to his native Honduras August 1, under provisions of the McCarran Act.

Surviving him are his wife, Maxine, an expectant mother, a 2½-year-old daughter and a 1-year-old son.

Coroner's officials said Barrow used a woolen blanket to hang himself. A suicide note in which he declared his love for his wife and family was found nearby.

Legislation permitting Barrow to remain in the country was to have been introduced in Congress, the coroner's office said.

Barrow would still have had to leave the country, however, as the bill was not scheduled for introduction until January, 1957, they reported.

Funeral services for Barrow will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the St. Paul Baptist Church, East Palo Alto. Interment will be in Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

Johnson and Tinney Colonial Chapel, 650 Live Oak avenue, is in charge of arrangements.

OBITUARY
John J. Huxtable

John James Huxtable, a resident of Menlo Park for the past year and a half, died Sunday at Sequoia hospital after six months of declining health. A retired real 'estate salesman, he had resided in San Mateo before moving to Menlo Park.

Huxtable was a native of England, and had come to the United States many years ago. He was a member of Arcata lodge 106, F. & A. M., in the northern California city.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. John Marsten of Stanford university and a son, Donald J. Huxtable of Palo Alto, in addition to three grandchildren.

Services were conducted Tuesday from the chapel of Roller and Hapgood in Palo Alto, under the auspices of Palo Alto lodge 346, F. & A.M.

Interment was at Alta Mesa Memorial park.

Sharing the Burden:

Ravenswood School District Looks To Industry to Ease Tax Load

Industrial and commercial developments in various parts of the Ravenswood School District may ultimately prove to be a major factor in lowering the district's tax rate, Business Manager Harold Napper said this week.

He cited the new Argonaut Insurance Company offices being built at Middlefield road and Santa Monica avenue in Menlo Park as an example of one type of business which will help; expansion of the Huggins Electronics Laboratory in Belle Haven is another and developments in Bohannon Industrial Park, north of Belle Haven and east of Bayshore highway, may prove another source of income to the district.

"On the other hand," Napper noted, "many of the businesses and commercial developments along Bayshore highway are being displaced by widening of that thoroughfare into a freeway.

"Many of these are relocating in the district, but some are moving out. This income is being lost to us."

As in the case of all school districts, Napper observed, commercial and industrial development is considered desirable from the point of view of a school district, since these areas contribute to the taxes of the district, but do not contribute children to the schools.

Residential areas, on the other hand, have a relatively low assessed valuation and don't contribute as much, per square acre, as an industrial area. But they contribute children which must be educated in the schools.

MAY BE IN DISTRICT

A $1,000,000 vodka and soup plant to be built by the G. F. Hueblein and Brothers Co. in Bohannon Industrial Park, may be in the Ravenswood School District. This will mean additional income also.

Assuming, Napper pointed out, that the value of the factory is assessed at $250,000 and $2.50 is levied against each $100 of that assessed valuation, the district will receive an income of $6250 each year from that source alone.

It's not definitely known where the plant is located, however. It may not be in the district. The site hasn't been pinpointed in announcements thus far.

Huggins Laboratories facing Hamilton avenue in Belle Haven is another growing plant, which recently contracted for a $56,000 plant expansion.

The Argonaut Insurance exchanges' offices had a contract cost of a half million dollars also.

Meanwhile, the reason the tax rate has risen is because the bulk of East Palo Alto's development has been residential, contributing more children to the schools.

Costs keep going up also, with the result that for the 1956-57 fiscal year, the householder has to pay about $2.50 for each $100 of assessed valuation of his property.

Total budget for the coming year, according to its preliminary tentative draft, will be about $1,717,885, Napper reminded.

ACCEPT WORK

The Menlo Park City Council Tuesday night accepted improvements in August terrace subdivision on recommendation of City Engineer Edwin H. Smith. The work involves some $12,600 of street, drainage and lighting installations in the area, which occupies the Bulotti property between Oak avenue and San Francisquito creek.

Atherton Student Wins USF Award

Lloyd Downton, the "atom hoax" newscaster of Stanford University's station KZSU, has been honored by the University of San Francisco's newspaper, Foghorn, for a column he wrote there called "Uptown and Downton."

Downton's effort was judged one of the two best collegiate columns in the country, by a St. Paul, Minn., newspaper editor.

Downton attended USF before transferring to Stanford. He resides in Atherton.

FIVE MENLO PARK residents were recent visitors at the Washington offices of Congressman J. Arthur Younger. They included James O. Wheaton, John Smith, Hugh Smith, John D. Jorgenson and Robert H. Clark.

Captain Cooley, Pioneer EPA Settler, Dies

Captain William Cooley, one of the original settlers in East Palo Alto, died last week in Los Altos.

Captain Cooley came to the area in 1868 at the age of one year with his father, Lester P. Cooley. Their ranch, the Ravenswood Ranch, was then established on property bordering on the present site of Cooley avenue, through University Village and to Cooley's Landing.

In 1905 Cooley sold the property to a syndicate headed by J. F. Parkinson of Palo Alto. It was ranched for some 20 years and then subdivided into one-acre parcels for use as chicken ranches.

Captain Cooley turned from farming to captain and pilot of Bay Area steamboats, which occupation he followed for 50 years.

Surviving Captain Cooley are three children, Harry J. Cooley of Los Altos, with whom Captain Cooley made his home; Mrs. Olive Wiedman of Menlo Park and Lester P. Cooley of Vallejo, who were all born on the farm in East Palo Alto.

Baha'is Observe Anniversary Of World Faith

The evolution of the Baha'i World Faith, was the theme of all Baha'i communities in 247 countries and dependencies of the world as they observed one of their most holy anniversaries at noon on July 9.

In Menlo Park the anniversary commemorating the Martyrdom of the Bab (The Gate to God), Prophet-Herald of the Faith, was held at 268 Oakhurst place under the direction of the local spiritual assembly.

A program designed to highlight the spiritual significance of the Martyrdom of the Bab, which took place in the barracks square of Tabriz, Persia, in 1850, and to show its relationship to events in the progress of the Faith and of the world at large, has been planned by local Baha'is.

This year's developments give special meaning to this Holy Day observance. It is always a commemoration of the spirit of sacrifice, for Baha'is hold that the Bab suffered persecution and death, much as the prophets of old, that mankind might spiritually advance. The past months, on the one hand, have seen a recrudescence of severe persecution of Baha'is in the land of Persia, and a consequent quickening of attention throughout the world, with the United Nations taking action through its secretary general and eminent scholars, statesmen and government envoys making public protest for justice. On the other hand, simultaneously, has been the rising on Mt. Carmel, at Haifa, Israel, of the first Baha'i World Center administrative building to complement the Shrine of the Bab, which is the spiritual center of this Faith.

Picnic This Sunday

Members of the congregation of Ladera Community church will convene at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at Ladera school, at which time the group will depart for church worship and a picnic at Huddart park near Woodside.

Announcing the event, Pastor Steven Peabody urged all to bring family lunches, which will provide refreshments during the day.

RE-APPOINTED

Warren H. Natwick, 450 Santa Monica avenue, and DeWitt M. Kelley, 212 Oakhurst place, both were re-appointed to new four-year terms as members of the Menlo Park Board of Library trustees Tuesday night by Mayor George Ford.

Tuesday Night:

County Urges Menlo Adoption Of Uniform Food Inspection Fee

Menlo Park city councilmen will decide on July 24 whether or not to adopt the uniform county food inspection ordinance, it was decided this week.

County Supervisor Alvin Hatch, accompanied by Board of Supervisors Chairman Thomas Callan and County Food Inspector Eugene Howell, appeared before the council Tuesday night to plead for adoption of the ordinance. The law, in effect in unincorporated areas, has been adopted by only three cities of the county to date: Belmont, Redwood City and South San Francisco.

The measure would require all establishments selling food to pay an annual permit fee ranging from $5 to $10 to the county health department for inspection.

Howell explained that uniformity and tighter control were goals of the law.

The county health department now inspects all food selling establishments in the county, acting within city limits as the city health department. Hatch pointed out that, until the cities enact the measure, businesses within their limits receive the inspections without charge, whereas concerns in the unincorporated areas are paying the fees.

He indicated that the supervisors would repeal the law because of this unequal situation unless the cities soon take action to go along.

Councilman Charles P. Burgess pointed out that the council had discussed the matter some time ago but that no action had been taken. "I think we should make up our minds soon," he said.

K of C Installs Officers for Coming Year

Starting its second year of activity, St. Denis council, Knights of Columbus, last Thursday evening installed officers for the coming year at Nativity social hall.

The installation was conducted under the direction of newly-elected District Deputy Thomas Dolan who was assisted by District Warden Chris Zupanovich and a color guard of Fourth Degree Knights in full regalia. The group represented Fra Crespi assembly and included in its number Paul S. Casattas, Jules Rapp, Nick Slusher and Diego Cancilla.

Officers installed included:

Fred Butow, grand knight; John Shannon, deputy grand knight; Larry Costa, chancellor; Charles Stephens, advocate; Sidney Franz, warden; Thomas Kearney, financial secretary; William Finnigan, recording secretary; Joe McLaughlin, treasurer; Bernie McLaughlin, lecturer; David and Adrian Dioli, outside guards; Henry Gilroy, inside guard; John Kiefer and Earl Rivard, trustees.

Father Thomas McKeon will succeed himself as chaplain.

Light refreshments and a social hour followed the formalities.

Menlo Park Driver Cited After Crash

Peter J. Condos, 18, of 1830 El Camino Real in Menlo Park was cited by Menlo Park police last week for driving an auto which had faulty brakes. It hit a parked car and one which was stopped in the street, as a result of the deficiency.

Police said Condos was driving west on Ravenswood avenue, approaching the Southern Pacific tracks, when the failure occurred. Other westbound cars were waiting for the crossing gates to rise.

Condos swerved to the right to avoid hitting the rear of the string of waiting cars, and struck a parked panel delivery truck. He then swerved his vehicle back to the left, striking a car operated by Eleanor Marie Taheny, 28, which was stopped in the line of traffic.

There were 37 grass fires in the Menlo Park Fire District during June.

Library Offers Special Summer Book Loans

The San Mateo County Library will offer special summer reading privileges to its patrons during the months of July and August Miss Virginia Ross, county librarian, announced today.

The new schedule applies to Menlo Park and East Palo Alto branch libraries, as well as others throughout the county.

During the summer months individuals may borrow as many as 10 books at a time and keep them six weeks These special privileges apply to all books in the library collection with the exception of reference books, text books, books published during the last year and books for which there is a constant demand. This applies to books in both the adult and juvenile collections.

Camp counselors, Scout leaders, day camp and church school workers are also invited to take advantage of the special summer loans. Book collections may be borrowed by any registered group and circulated to readers attending camps and schools.

Miss Ross also announced the library is sponsoring a summer reading program for children of all ages. The program of reading and book discussion is free; details of the program are available at your nearest branch of the county library.

Summer reading loans are available to any user of the San Mateo County Public Library and are planned to encourage reading for pleasure. Stay-at-homes, as well as vacationers, are cordially invited to make use of the library's collection. The library assistants will be glad to answer all questions about loans and borrowing privileges and will help you select books for leisure time reading.

School Additions on Schedule, Ravenswood Trustees Informed

Additions to the Brentwood and Kavanaugh schools are going ahead according to schedule, according to Arthur D. Janssen, architect, who reported at the regular meeting of the Ravenswood City School District board of trustees meeting last Monday night.

The contractor, C. R. Lund, has met the demands of the unions and thus far work is continuing with no strike prospects.

Costano addition is 50 per cent completed, it was reported.

The school calendar for 1956-57 was approved by the boards. Notable dates are, Tuesday, September 11, school opens; Christmas holiday begins Friday, December 21 until Monday, January 7, and school closes June 14.

School secretaries will have Armistice day, November 11, as a holiday instead of Admission day, September 9.

After a discussion of the county library land lease, it was decided to appoint Stanley Schnepple, superintendent of the district, to contact Miss Virginia Ross, county librarian, and the District Attorney to determine the advisability of a short term lease.

"Because of difficulty in obtaining land for schools, and the continuing growth of the district, it is unadvisable to lease the land for a long term," Schnepple stated. While the district is interested in having an adequate library, the primary concern of the school board is schools," Schnepple continued.

The proposed new library is tentatively scheduled to be built near its present site on Donohoe, which is school property.

Other action taken by the board included:

1) Approved increased premiums on district liability insurance.

2) Approved continuance of student policies with Washington National Insurance Co.

3) Approved borrowing $50,000 from Board of Supervisors on tax anticipation notes.

4) Approved membership in the California School Board Association and institutional membership in California School Administrators Association.

5) Approved B. R. Gentry as auditor for the district accounts. As the firm which originally had the low bid for the 1955-56 audit, Gentry, Pearson and Del Pradi, had dissolved, and divided the accounts, Gentry had written approval for the action.

A letter from the East Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce was read requesting suggestions for projects which the chamber might help promote. Mrs. Charlotte Roden was appointed to gather the suggestions from the board members and return the letter.

Grenbeaux Named Principal of Brentwood School

Jean Grenbeaux was appointed principal at Brentwood Elementary School at last Monday's school board meeting, to replace Edwin Silverbrand, who resigned to take a similar position in Oxnard.

To assist him, the board also named Doris E. Cranley as a full time vice principal at the school.

Donald V. Pedersen, was named as teaching vice principal at Kavanaugh to replace Grenbeaux.

Grenbeaux has been in the district for five years, three spent at Kavanaugh. During Stanley Schnepple's recent illness, he was acting principal in place of Robert Guthrie, who had moved over to the administrative offices.

At Kavanaugh he taught in the third, fourth and fifth grades.

Prior to his Kavanaugh position, Grenbeaux taught the fifth grade at Brentwood, and the seventh at Ravenswood.

Grenbeaux was born in Los Angeles, studied at San Jose State College where he got his BA, and later acquired is MA at Stanford.

He and his wife, Dorothy, a teacher at Whisman School, were married during college days, and reside at 566 Morse avenue in Sunnyvale.

Miss Cranley, the new appointee to the vice principalship at Brentwood is a newcomer to the district. She taught fifth grade at Willow School last year ,and prior to that time was doing administrative teaching work in Salt Lake City schools.

She got her BA and MA in Education at the University of Idaho, and did graduate work at both University of California and Stanford.

Miss Cranley's appointment marks the first time a woman has been named to an administrative position in the district.

Stanley Schnepple, superintendent of the schools, in introducing Miss Cranley to the Board of Trustees, remarked that they were not prejudiced against hiring women for such positions, but that this was the first time that a woman both competent and interested in the position had presented herself.

Pedersen has been teaching in the district for three years in the fifth grade at Belle Haven School. Prior to that time he taught in Redwood City.

He attended San Francisco State College where he obtained a BA and teaching credential.

He is a native of San Francisco.

Pedersen and his wife, Marjorie, also a teacher, have a daughter, Debbie, 4 years old, and reside at 1741 Crane avenue in Mountain View.

TRUCK BURNS HERE

An estimated $75 damage resulted when a bottle of gasoline broke last Friday afternoon, igniting a truck at 3128 Barney avenue, Menlo Park Fire District firemen report. They said the manner in which the gasoline ignited was unknown. The truck was a 1946 pickup.

Atherton Police Car Figures in Mishap

One of Atherton's four police cars went out of service earlier this week after being involved in a minor collision at Selby lane and El Camino Real.

The accident occurred Monday morning when an auto driven by Dominic Passanisi, 44, of Redwood City, moving north on El Camino attempted to turn onto Selby lane.

Officer James Burke was traveling south beside two other cars on El Camino when Passanisi's auto moved in front of him. Burke's police car struck the right front door of the other car.

Both cars were towed from the scene and no citations were issued.

The damaged police car was due to return to service today.

THE FIREMEN last Thursday lectured two boys, both six years old, who were identified as responsible for a grass fire at 397 Cerrito avenue.

East Palo Alto C of C Views Left Turn Ban

East Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce officers have decided to call a meeting of California Highway Patrol, county engineers' department and C. of C. officials for discussion of a possible "no left turn" ban on Bayshore highway in East Palo Alto.

Frank Brashear, acting as spokesman for the Chamber, said that the action was initiated Monday at a regular meeting of the Chamber's board of directors. John Spiker, assistant highway engineer for the county, advised the course of action.

Brashear explained that congestion on the highway, in the area of University avenue, is expected to continue to grow until opening of a proposed traffic interchange there. Division IV headquarters of the California State Division of Highways is expected to call for bids for the interchange and other freeway improvements from Willow road to the Santa Clara county line within the next few weeks.

Since East Palo Alto is in unincorporated territory, it is expected a course of action different than that taken by the city of Menlo Park, when it closed streets entering the highway from Belle Haven, is required.

Westridge Prof Appears on TV

Professor David C. Regnery of 488 Westridge drive, west of Menlo Park, was one of three scientists who last Saturday explained the importance of "pure" science research over "Science Calling", a Stanford university-KPIX television program.

Regnery a biologist, was joined by two other scientists as a guest of Dr. Tom Groody, the program's producer.

Saturday's show was the tenth of a series of 13 designed to acquaint pre-college students and their families with the possibilities of a career in science.

Portola Valley Group Asks Study Of Traffic Dangers on Area Roads

Members of the Portola Valley Association Monday night cited several traffic accidents during the past year, including the recent one near the intersection of Alpine and Portola roads in which three teenagers were injured and voted to ask the highway department for a thorough study of danger areas in the valley. They agreed to call on State Assemblyman Richard Dolwig to help them get immediate action on the matter.

The association also voted to ask for changes in local signs which presently read "Portola," instead of Portola Valley, and to request Portola Valley signs from the California Automobile Association for the borders of the valley.

Although local residents may receive mail addressed Portola Valley, since there is a postal substation so designated, not all outgoing mail may be cancelled with this address. The association will urge postal authorities to allow all mail to be cancelled, Portola Valley.

Plans for a new medical and dental office were announced by association President Robert S. Paul. The offices would be established on property owned by Willa V. Blynn and consisting of a little less than a half acre. Arthur S. Boles has applied to the San Mateo County Planning Commission for commercial zoning on this piece. Additional land already zoned commercial would also be used.

Members of the association raised no objection to these plans since they are in keeping with their master plan for commercial zoning.

President Paul reaffirmed his statement of a previous meeting that association officers will appear with area residents who wish to protest land assessments at the July meeting of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, Those who are interested are urged to contact Paul or their Valley Association representatives.

As We See It:

THE RIGHT IDEA

We greet with enthusiasm Tuesday night's action of the city council favoring the additional one-cent sales tax in San Mateo county.

No, we don't like to pay taxes any more than anyone else, but in the highly complicated tax picture, the present proposed move seems to us a sound one.

The eternal problem of taxation — as in the family budget — is how to get the money you need to buy the things you have to have.

Some things are necessities to a community, just as food and shelter are to the family. We must have schools. We must have fire protection, police protection, sewers, traffic arteries and adequate recreational facilities to keep our children healthy and on the proper road of development.

The separate districts — schools, fire, sanitary, etc. — have no available source of revenue other than the assessed valuation of property within their boundaries. Up to now, the city of Menlo Park never has utilized any other source, either.

The city has been most considerate of the burden on the taxpayer. We believe it has been too considerate in curtailing needed improvements in order to keep the property tax rate well below the maximum $1 limit.

Now we face the time when many of these improvements must be bought or the desirability of Menlo Park as a residential community will deteriorate. With that deterioration, the value of your property and ours will shrink.

At the same time, we all know we face further tax increases for schools and other services that we must have. If the land owner is to bear the entire brunt through his property tax, the load will become unbearable.

We must seek out and utilize other ways of paying the bill.

It is said that we are paying for it one way or the other. Why should it make a difference whether it is through a property tax or a sales tax?

There are two foremost reasons why the sales tax is better. First, it is easier to take, spread as it is in driblets all through the year. Second, it places some of the burden of city services on those persons residing just outside the city limits who do not now pay a cent for them.

Residents of unincorporated sections adjacent to Menlo Park will be free to use our new city library, soon to be built, because it is also part of the county library system. Yet they do not contribute a cent toward construction of the library, while Menlo Park taxpayers this year will pay some 3 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for it.

If these library bonds were to be retired out of sales tax revenue, as proposed by the council, all those who use it would be carrying the load.

The same reasoning applies to our street system, our police protection and our park and recreation facilities.

Biggest objection to the sales tax is based on fear that it will be entirely an additional tax, that property tax rates will soar just as high and that government at all levels will find extra ways to spend this new source of plenty.

We believe our Menlo Park city council is on the right road in suggesting a city law to commit at least half of the sales tax to reduction of the property tax. Such a provision we have advocated as a means of controlling the use of these funds.

Yes, it will mean more money from us . . . probably an extra $15 a year per household on the average. But it is money we must spend anyway if we are to maintain a desirable community, and we believe the sales tax is the easiest and most equitable method of getting it out of our pockets.

Our Nose for News

TELLS US:

. . . That the dress blue uniforms which Menlo Park Fire District firemen have been wearing on formal occasions—you've probably seen them worn at the Firemen's ball among other places—are undergoing subtle change.

The new uniforms, to which firemen are going to have to "convert" during the next few months, have three pairs of buttons down their well-cut double-breasted fronts; the older uniforms have four pairs.

And the new uniforms are a darker shade, also. More nearly black than the midnight blue of the older uniform.

And best of all, they're cooler, being of a lighter weight than the uniforms worn up to this time.

. . . That there is indignation among Northern California's leading Republicans, and particularly among members of the San Mateo County Central Committee.

The furor arises from the fact that only 100 tickets to the Republican national convention in South San Francisco have been allotted to central committeemen throughout California, with only 40 of them to be distributed among Northern California's 48 counties.

This means that County Committee Chairman John W. Dinkelspiel can attend, but if anyone else is to get a look-in, Dinkelspiel will have to trade seats with him. The local boys who do the party work are unhappy.

Maybe the local party needs better representation on the national level?

. . . That the Encinal school painting job already has been described as the kind of a thing that could lead to controversy.

But Architect Pat Keller, who in addition to helping select a color will have to decide, on the basis of prices, whether to paint all or part of the school, has at least one good description of what might happen:

"If we paint only part of the school," he observes, "some people will say it looks like a zebra. But, after all, one man's zebra is another man's horse. . . ."

* * *

. . . That, from the point of view of a newshound, Menlo Park seems to be going to the dogs.

The just published city annual report shows that the poundmaster, during 1955, took 326 dogs to the animal shelter, compared with only 281 in 1954, whereas the number of cats similarly treated dropped off from 285 in 1954 to 266 in 1955.

At the same time, us dogs seem to be behaving better in general. 1954 brought 815 complaints about animals to the poundmaster, while only 630 complaints were registered in 1955.

Ho, for the dog's life!

Drainage Route Pact Approved

To speed acquisition of an easement to allow construction of the storm drainage line between Felton Gables and the Atherton canal, the Menlo Park City Council Tuesday night approved a proposed agreement between the city and S. H. Palmer, owner of the property at 250 Watkins avenue, through which the pipeline would run.

The agreement, submitted by City Engineer Edwin H. Smith, would pay Palmer $1515 for the easement.

At the same time, councilmen also authorized filing of condemnation proceedings to acquire the easement by right of eminent domain should negoations toward signing of the agreement fail.

Serviceman Home After Tour Duty

Home from two years in the service is Henry Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Olson, 736 Harvard avenue.

Olson, who was a private first class, has been stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, with an electronics research unit.

Prior to entering the service, the local young man received his masters at Stanford and plans to return to the campus to work toward his doctorate in electrical engineering.

Cadet Huffcut in Officer Training

FORT KNOX, Ky. (Special)—Cadet William H. Huffcut, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Huffcut, 319 Concord drive, Menlo Park, is receiving six weeks of officers' training this summer at Fort Knox, Ky., through the ROTC program of Virginia Military Institute.

The training ends Aug. 3.

Huffcut was graduated from Peekskill high school in 1953.

Your City's Business:

Storm Drain Project Would Solve Problems

By CHARLES P. BURGESS
City Councilman, Menlo Park

The month of July is not a period conducive to consideration of flood control problems, but it is a time when work must be readied if remedial steps are to be taken prior to the next winter's rains.

Much work has been done on the San Francisquito creek bed, and it in better shape to cope with the coming wet season than in many years. Some additional work therein also is projected for the next few months.

In Felton Gables the street repaving job being done by special assessment proceedings also contains a portion of the master plan drainage program for that portion of the city, including a connection to the Atherton storm drainage canal.

On Valparaiso another special assessment job will divert water from the Hillview and Hesketh Manor subdivisions and empty it into San Francisquito creek.

Two more major projects are now under study. One is extension of the Middlefield road storm drain from its present terminus at American Insurance company to Oak Grove avenue, and up Oak Grove to Laurel. This will drain off the large accumulation of water that now occurs in front of the high school, as well as the large lakes along Oak Grove. The city engineer has been requested to bring in plans on this system.

The really king-size project now in the making, however, is to be initiated by Atherton. Plans now under study contemplate the straightening, enlarging and lining of the Atherton storm drain channel from the Bayshore freeway to the Alameda de las Pulgas plus miscellaneous improvements.

In addition, a new storm drain would run from the intersection of Cloud, Sharon and Santa Cruz to Valparaiso, down the northerly side of Valparaiso to Elena, and follow Elena to the channel.

Also included would be an Atherton avenue storm drain from Monte Vista to Elena and a Valparaiso drain from Crane to El Camino, then to the Atherton channel via El Camino. There are also several short spurs not mention above.

Both projects are proposed to be financed by municipal sewer districts under the recent amendment to the act which permits the inclusion of unincorporated territory and that of adjacent municipalities.

The Middlefield road storm drain district will include Stanford Village and property easterly of El Camino between Oak Grove and Ravenswood avenues. The Atherton project will include generally all of that city except certain portions lying northerly of Atherton avenue or Isabella, the Sharon estate, and portions of Menlo Park lying near Valparaiso except those parts presently assessed for the Valparaiso storm drain.

Completion of these two projects will provide sufficient storm water protection for the area for many years to come, except for one item.

This is a flood control reservoir on San Francisquito creek a few miles west of our present boundaries. The works would not be chargeable to any part of the area now being proposed for inclusion in the Atherton project.

Marines Return Home from Camp

Menlo Park members of two Marine Reserve units, the 5th 90mm Gun Battery and the 1st Air Delivery Company, returned home last weekend from their annual summer training in Southern California.

The Air Delivery Company participated in air drop training both at the Camp Pendleton air strip and supply warehouses, while the artillerymen fired in competition on Pendleton rifle ranges.

James Twohy Is Confab Delegate

School improvement leaders from a 12-state area will gather in San Francisco July 12-14 to discuss the problems of education and what local communities and states can do about them according to Leeds Lacy, regional director of the National Citizens' Council for Better Schools.

James F. Twohy, Menlo Park, is one of 24 state citizens' committee leaders and 19 Council members invited to the conclave, to be held at the Palace hotel.

Man Pleads Guilty On Morals Charge

A 35-year-old former Stockton high school teacher, who now lives in Menlo Park, switched his plea to guilty on moral charges involving a 15-year-old boy after hearing evidence against him presented in Superior Judge Edmund Scott's court Monday. Judge Scott accepted the plea by the man, Hans Ray Hansen, 1303 Hollyburne avenue, and ordered him taken into custody.

AT BANKERS' CONCLAVE

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnston of Atherton recently attended the fifth annual conference of the Investment Bankers' Association, held at Santa Barbara.

County Comment:

Taxpayers Brace Themselves As Budgets Hint at Bigger Bills

With all our government taxing agencies putting the final touches to annual budgets, the outlook for the poor taxpayer this coming December is indeed an unhappy one. No one is sure as yet just how much the boost will be, but we're bracing ourselves for the blow.

With all the talk about the one-cent sales tax plan which likely will be ready to go into effect October 1, we were interested in the discussions of the more than 800 lay citizens who made up the attendance at the Sequoia Educational Conference last month. One of the major topics of discussion was the way and means to raise necessary funds to carry on the expanded high school program. We have been feeling the brunt of the elementary school problems for some years. Now comes the high school's turn to face double sessions or build like mad to keep up with the new students.

Two items, particularly, took our eye in the summary of the citizens' conference. One suggestion was a special sales tax for schools. Another was to reduce the great free load caused by veterans exemptions.

If we remember correctly, the state sales tax was instigated to assist the school districts. They probably now would like to see that tax raised to four cents instead. Coupled with the local one-cent levy that would really throw a new burden all around.

To even mention changing the veterans' $5000 tax exemption is like inviting a fight with Rocky Marciano. Politicians steer clear of the subject as if it were a deadly fever. Not too long ago an official of the county superintendent of schools office let slip a word that omission of the veterans property exemptions was the answer to the problem of school financing. Maybe he didn't say it in those words, but his remarks touched off a bombshell, and there were denials, apologies and the like in an effort to smooth things over.

We can't understand why the subject should be so hush-hush. After all it is a serious subject and it has a great bearing on the tax structure of the city, county and state. We've talked to enough veterans to know that many of them would like to see a change.

Probably the most sensible suggestion we heard was that veterans be allowed the property exemption for a period of 10 years following discharge. That would give the ex-serviceman time to get back on his feet, get established in a job or business, and then take his rightful place as a tax-paying supporter of his schools and his government.

We see nothing wrong with that, but we know that any discussion of the subject is certain to bring the wrath of some veterans down on our heads.

Right now the tax take for the coming year will be approximately 30 per cent more than last year. The good news that the county rate could stay about the same or possibly advance a cent or two brings a smile after a possible 15-cent boost predicted a few weeks ago. The Sequoia High School District will up its take one-third with the full $1.50 permissive tax limit.

We can't forget that the sales tax, if it is adopted locally, will pile more tax dollars into the government treasuries. If it is started this fall, as we predict it will, then the collections between that date and the start of the next fiscal year July 1 will be "gravy" to the cities and county.

Regardless of what we think of our tax picture in this area, however, it isn't as bad as many other places. Take a look at some of the rates in the east bay and to the south of us—in fact anyplace where the population is booming as it is here.

Maybe we're too critical of our ever expanding governments. We couldn't understand the reasons backing our county officials in setting up more than 100 new jobs this year. Granted that some are needed for the opening of the new county hospital, but the new workers given some other departments bordered on the ridiculous, in our opinion.

So, just as a word of warning, get your broadest smile ready for that day not too far off when the county and city tax bills arrive. You will be shocked, to be sure, but just remember we haven't hit the top yet—or have we?

Firemen Aid:

GIRL IN DISTRESS

A young lady learning to drive had to interrupt her lesson last week and call Menlo Park Fire District firemen.

With due chivalry, the smoke-chasers declined to identify the young miss, other than to say she was a resident of Palo Alto. They said she called after fire broke out in the wheel hubs of the car she was driving along Fair Oaks lane in Atherton.

Cause of the fire, the firemen said, was the fact that the auto's hand brake had been left on.

The firemen examined her learner's permit, and thoughtfully forgot to remember her age, too.

NINE FROM ATHERTON VISIT CONGRESSMAN

The Washington office of Congressman J. Arthur Younger was visited by nine residents of Atherton during recent weeks, the congressman reports in his most recent newsletter. Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Imholt Jr., Mabel G. Lee, Susan G. Gray, Mrs. Howard Ruweler and David and Hal Wynn.

NEWCOMER IN POLITICS

Editor, the Recorder:

As a newcomer to the political wars I suspect I make a fine school teacher. You can imagine my pleasure at receiving 17,835 votes in the primary final count and becoming a nominated candidate in the general election for the 26th Assembly vacancy.

Please allow me to express by deep appreciation to all who supported me and my thanks to you for space accorded me during the campaign.

Alan L. Baldwin,
Woodside, California.

The Recorder always welcomes letters from its readers on any subject of public interest. Within the limitations of available space, all such letters will be published as received so long as they do not violate decency and good taste and provided they are signed.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

East Palo Alto Sanitary District

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals or bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on July 26, 1956, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. by the Sanitary Board of the East Palo Alto Sanitary District, San Mateo County, California at the meeting place of said Board, 495 O'Connor Street, Palo Alto, California, for the construction and installation of sanitary sewers and appurtenances. Bids may be delivered to the Secretary of said District, or mailed to the East Palo Alto Sanitary District, 495 O'Connor Street, Palo Alto, California. Said improvements will be constructed in accordance with and are more particularly described in the plans and specifications therefor approved by the Sanitary Board of said District on June 28, 1956, and on file in the Office of the Secretary of said District.

Notice is hereby given that on June 28, 1956, the Sanitary Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wage to be paid to various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements in and for said District, a copy of which wage scale is contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for a full and detailed statement thereof.

Payments for said work to be done by the contractor shall be made in cash by said District to the contractor on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the District Engineer and the Sanitary Board, based on labor and materials performed and furnished by the contractor and incorporated into said work during the preceding month, and 50% of the value of material to be incorporated into said work and delivered to the job site but said District shall retain 10% of the amount of each such estimates, and the accumulation of said amounts so retained from said progressive payments will be paid to said contractor thirty-five days after the completion and acceptance of said work by said District Engineer and the Sanitary Board.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check payable to the order of the District, amounting to 10% of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District, signed by a corporate surety or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said District, in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within ten (10) days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in the amount of 100% of the amount so bid, with sureties satisfactory to the said Sanitary Board and which shall be accompanied by a labor and material bond in a sum equal to 50% of the amount of said bid, under the provisions of Title 1, Division 5, Chapter 3 of the Government Code.

The District reserves the privilege of rejecting any and all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bid or in the bidding.

Plans and specifications, forms of proposals, bonds and contracts may be inspected or obtained at the office of the District Engineer, McCandless and Jett, P. O. Box 845, or 1274 El Camino Real, Menlo Park, California, upon deposit of ten dollars ($10.00) per set, five dollars ($5.00) of which will be refunded upon return of such sets in good condition within ten days after opening of bids.

Dated: June 28, 1956.

Promotion of Mrs. Alyce Banks to the full-time post of Classified Advertising Manager for Burley Publications, Inc., publishers of the Menlo Park Recorder, Ravenswood Post and Mid-Peninsula Buy Word was announced this week.

Her new duties will take Mrs Banks out of the office for a con siderable part of the time. Her in office duties will be taken over by Mrs. Margaret Worth, who will as sist users of the three-paper com bined Want Ad section in placing and wording their advertisements whether they phone or drop in at the office.

"We are pleased in announcing this staff shift," said Clarence A Burley, publisher, "because it re flects the fine job Mrs. Banks ha done during her five years with our organization. The shift wa made necessary by the steadily in creasing number of persons who are learning the effectiveness of Want Ads right here in their own local paper—right nearby where fast results are easy."

A Want Ad in the three-paper combination goes into more than 19,000 homes in the Menlo Park, Atherton, Woodside and East Palo Alto area.

Dr. Stillwell Heads Little House Organization

Dr. D. L. Stilwell of Menlo Park was last Friday night elected to serve as president of Little House, heading a slate of officers which will oversee activities at the senior recreation center at Nealon park for the next six months.

Dr. Stilwell was a practicing physician and surgeon in Detroit, Mich., for more than 40 years. He retired to this area in 1952 to be near his son, Dr. Donald Stilwell Jr., instructor at Stanford Medical school, and has taken an active interest in Little House since becoming a member.

Serving as officers of Little House for the ensuing term, under Dr. Stilwell, will be:

Mrs. Teresa McLean, Menlo Park, first vice-president; Mrs. William Todd, Atherton, second vice-president; Gay Anderson Sr., Menlo Park, recording secretary; Mrs. James P. McNutt, Palo Alto, corresponding secretary; James C. Lane, Menlo Park, treasurer and R. H. Cost, Menlo Park, assistant treasurer.

New committees and chairmen will be appointed for the coming term, at the Little House organization's next business meeting.

City to Raze Domby Buildings

City Manager C. L. Longson this week was directed by the city council to have the old buildings on the Domby property, between Palm court and Stanford avenue, torn down.

The action was taken by the City Council Tuesday night upon expiration of the 90-day period given the owner, Mrs. Julia Domby, for removal of the structures, which were determined a nuisance because of their unsafe condition. The council instructed Longson to arrange for the demolition and to charge Mrs. Domby for it.

New Ravenswood Teachers Seek Rental Housing

Don Halverson, officer of the Ravenswood Teachers' Association, this week reiterated his plea for those with rental units available to call him within the next few weeks.

About 40 new teachers are coming into the district, he said, and many will begin arriving this month to learn a little more about their community and setting up living arrangements, before formally settling down here next fall.

Halverson said that the teachers who are expected to take employment here next September include those with all kinds of family status: single, married with no children and married with families as well.

They have indicated preferences for all sorts of rental units, from small apartments to homes for families.

Halverson can be reached by calling DA 5-1443.

The Board of Trustees for the Ravenswood City School District approved contracts for four new teachers in the district, at Monday night's meeting. The new teachers are Lucille M. Kornman, Doris R. Tilden, Douglas J. Miller and Mary Mattson.

Stanley Schnepple, superintendent for the district, indicated that there are only six more vacancies to be filled in the teaching staff.

"This will cause no problem," he commented, "as we have enough applicants to fill the positions."

Air Force Unit Trains in Idaho

Local members of the Bay Area's Golden Gate Wing, the 349th Fighter Bomber Reserve Wing at Hamilton AFB, are currently spending two weeks at Gowen Air Force Base, Boise, Ida. The wing is commanded by Brig. Gen. H. P. Little of Menlo Park.

The Golden Gate Wing, with the mission of being ready at all times to defend the Bay Area, is the only reserve wing west of the Rockies training with jet aircraft. Its members train one weekend a month at Hamilton, and once each year, as now, participate in a concentrated two-week training program.

Most of the wing's personnel left for Idaho by train last weekend. A few traveled in private autos, while a small number flew to the Boise air base.

Standard Oil Gives New Rank To Menlo Man

Robert W. Johnson, 1864 Doris drive, Menlo Park, has been appointed assistant comptroller of Standard Oil company of California, it was announced today.

A native of Tacoma, Washington, Johnson attended the College of Puget Sound for two years before transferring to Stanford where he earned his B.A. degree in accounting.

Johnson joined American Bitumuls & Asphalt Co., a Standard subsidiary in 1931 as an accountant. By 1943 he had become traveling auditor for the parent company's comptroller's department.

From 1948 until 1954 Johnson was secretary-treasurer for the Salt Lake Pipe Line and Salt Lake Refining companies, two other Standard subsidiaries. In 1954 he was named assistant division comptroller, a position he held until his recent appointment.

The Johnsons have three children, Robert Jr., 14; Richard, 7; and Christine, 5.

Stanford Is Host To Principals

STANFORD — "The Education of American Citizens in a World Setting" is the theme of a national conference at Stanford University for elementary school principals July 9 through 20.

This is the 15th summer conference to be held biannially under the sponsorship of the National Education Association.

One hundred fifty principals are attending, with close to three-fourths of them from California.

William Hecht, school and college representative for United Air Lines, has joined nine Stanford professors as lecturers for the conference. The Stanford faculty members will be T. J. Kreps, C. Easton Rothwell, Harold H. Fisher, Claude A. Buss, C. Langdon White, Oliver E. Byrd, Paul R. Hanna, I. James Quillen and Daniel T. Dawson.

The speakers will discuss America's world responsibilities in the fields of political science, geography, economics, philosophy, health, science, literature and arts, and anthropology-sociology. Smaller seminar sessions will be held during the afternoons.

Annual Report Tells of Growth Of Activity of City Departments

Each home within the city is to receive, within a few days, a copy of the Menlo Park City Council's annual report—26 pages of data on activities of various municipal agencies during the past fiscal year.

Usually published earlier in the season, the report was held up this time, to allow results of bond issue and city council elections to be kept current. Also, new city boundaries, resulting from annexations, had to be included in the fold-out map which occupies a section of the publication.

The report gives no data on the proposed tentative budget for the 1956-57 fiscal year, but reviews tax rate and income data for 1954-55 and '55-56. Between those two years, the city's valuation increased nearly $2,000,000—from $25,430,560 to $27,692,650.

It also gives reports on the activities of the various city departments:

CITY COUNCIL

Under "City Council Proceedings," the report summarizes as major gains for the year the completion of negotiations to get Stanford Village out from under federal ownership, the acquisition of new offstreet parking south of Santa Cruz avenue in the downtown business district, the passage of bonds for financing construction of a municipal library, as a first development in the civic center, and adoption of a streets and highways portion of the city's master plan.

Major achievements of the planning commission during the year, the report declares, included 10 rezonings, 26 resubdivisions, recommendations of amendments to the city's zoning ordinance, and approval, for purposes of architectural control, of several major business and commercial units.

Preliminary work which preceded submitting last April's $120,000 library bond issue to the voters was characterized as the library board of trustees' most extensive project for the year. The board is currently working out details of design with Architect Kingsford Jones.

Menlo Park police department, the report says, has grown in personnel to include at the present time, a chief, a lieutenant, three sergeants, an inspector, an identification officer, a police clerk and 19 other officers. There are also four, part-time school crossing officers.

BIGGER OPERATION

The department operates five cars, two motorcycles and a motorized tricycle, the report continues. There are normally four cars on patrol at all times.

Installation of the department's own radio transmitter last year was considered one of the largest major, out-of-routine steps in department expansion, the report says.

House and door checks in the business areas of the city have also increased; 907 homes were checked an aggregate 16,508 times during the year, at the request of residents who were away.

For the statistically-minded, the department recovered $24,107 worth of stolen property that was reported missing in Menlo Park, investigated 907 complaints, served 832 warrants, issued 7866 traffic citations.

There were no fatal accidents in Menlo Park during 1955, although Bayshore highway is not included in this statistic, since it is under the aegis of the California Highway Patrol.

"Menlo Park's public spirited reserve police ,trained by the regular police, continued to perform outstanding civic service," the report continues. "The force consists of a reserve lieutenant, three reserve sergeants and 19 reserve officers.

"They put in 3452 man hours in 1955, and policed many civic events. During the flood danger period, around Dec. 23, reserve officers put in 60 man hours of duty."

SHOWS PROFIT

The water department showed a net profit of $9501 in 1955, the report continues.

The street department carried out extensive street repair programs in several parts of the city and installed drains at six locations to eliminate bad dips in streets, the report notes.

Other major street repair programs were conducted with state gasoline tax funds, and were completed by private contractors.

Working with the street department, the city's parks department was responsible for planting of some 400 trees along city streets, in addition to making improvements at Burgess Park and maintaining all of the city's publicly-owned recreation areas.

The $100,000 parks bond issue passed by the voters this spring will mean a larger recreational plant also, the report continues.

Participants and spectators in programs sponsored by the city's recreation department is estimated at 114,390, the report continues, during 1955. The department has four full-time employees and 41 part-time employees, mainly specialists in various sports and recreation activities, were hired at various times during the year.

The annual report was printed by the Menlo Park Recorder; 7500 copies were ordered by the city.

Distribution was to be conducted by Boy Scouts.

IN CONTEST—Bill Kriegh of 109 Santa Maria avenue, apprentice plumber from Local No. 467 was this area's entrant in the California State Plumbers and Pipefitters Apprentice Training Contest held recently at San Luis Obispo, Calif. Kriegh is shown caulking a cast iron soil pipe joint, one of nine work projects upon which all contestants were scored.

Long-Range Plans Show Complete Belle Haven Community Center

Belle Haven's own district recreation center, for which the city has acquired half of the 26 lots required, may appear pretty basic when first developments are in but, Menlo Park City Recreation Director Fred Parsons noted this week, the long-range plan calls for a complete community center for both young and old.

Just how long it will be before the 6½-acre site is fully developed depends on many things, he added. Not the least of these is the support given the city's recreation program, as a whole, by Belle Haven's residents themselves.

As things stand now, the city has a preliminary plan for the park ,but this will have to be modified somewhat because the facility's size has been cut by three lots in the interests of safety.

The city holds 13 of the 26 deeds which it began negotiations for, in the wake of an April bond issue in which citizens approved the expenditure for acquisition of park sites including that in Belle Haven.

The park ,at the northwest corner of the Belle Haven triangle, will be reached by Terminal avenue. It will be completely screened from both Bayshore freeway and the Southern Pacific railway tracks by heavy planting.

The park itself will be triangular in shape, as dictated by geography.

FIRST DEVELOPMENT

When development starts, according to Parsons, the first things to go in will be a sprinkler system, turfing in some areas and an asphalted area to develop later.

The bond issue passed last spring includes $5000 for this purpose.

From then on, it's a matter of city budgets, plus whatever support area residents can give, in the development.

Ultimately, to be included are a campfire area and amphitheater; a regulation hardball baseball diamond, a softball diamond and a football field suitable for both touch tackle and regulation games.

The smaller children will have an area all of their own. In it, there'll be a spray pool, sand box, elementary play equipment and a hard-surfaced area for roller skating and wheeled toys.

The adults haven't been left out either. There are to be horseshoe pits and tennis courts, as well as picnic grounds, an outdoor basketball court, volleyball and badminton court and picnic areas.

Ultimately, Parsons notes, a swimming pool and bath house may be added. These are items of major cost, however, and special provision in city budgets for years to come may be necessary to finance them.

"We consider this a 'district recreation center', which means that it is to provide as many facilities as possible," Parsons explained. Also, it should have at least one fulltime director, to aid in organization of games and to generally oversee the place.

"In spite of the problems we have to face in a major development of this sort, we are sure that we can count on the support of residents of the area," Parsons declared.

Council Approves Church Rezoning

Menlo Park City Councilmen Tuesday night introduced an ordinance to rezone a parcel of property adjacent to the Little League baseball field on Ravenswood avenue for construction of a Christian Science church and for joint parking use by the church and by Stanford Research Institute.

The move, clearing the way for a trade of properties between SRI and the church, will open up the area now occupied by the church in the heart of Stanford Village for construction of SRI's proposed new headquarters, construction on which is expected to begin with a few months.

Where Your Children Will Go:

Outlook for New High Schools: Filled Even Before They're Built

Sequoia High School District administrators have plans afoot which are calculated to help cope with the wave of south county elementry school pupils reaching secondary educational levels during the next few years.

But whether continued population growth will render present, planned and hoped-for facilities inadequate, and what the attendance boundaries of proposed and existing high schools will be, remains unanswerable, administrators indicated this week.

At present, two 1200-student high schools are on the drawing boards; one, to be built at Woodside road and Alameda de las Pulgas, is expected to be complete for the opening of school in the fall of 1957.

A second, similar plant, in East Palo Alto, is expected to open its doors in September of 1958. Both of these have been designed with an eye to being expanded in succeeding years.

How will that affect attendance areas?

By 1958, when the East Palo Alto plant is opened, approximately one-fourth of the 4500 registered, during the past year, in Ravenswood Elementary School District schools will be in the high school age group. These in addition to those who are freshmen and sophomore students at Menlo-Atherton High School today.

This would seem to indicate, administrators said, that the high school can be more than filled with pupils whose homes are east of Bayshore highway; Ravenswood School District students residing west of the highway will continue to have to use facilities at Menlo-Atherton.

The proposed new Woodside high school will also start with a full enrollment, or nearly so.

Many Woodside area students are currently transported all the way to Carlmont High School for classes, administrators have pointed out; classrooms are expected to become scarcer in the northern district school as building activity continues there and as children at present in elementary schools grow and advance through the grades.

Expansion of the new plants is still in the future, and financing for the further development of the new high schools to accommodate the maximum number of pupils will await new bond issues.

But two years after the East Palo Alto high school opens, approximately half of the 4500 pupils now in Ravenswood district elementary schools will be in the high school age bracket. Even if the high school is expanded to a full, 2000-capacity school, therefore, it may not be able to accommodate all of the presently-expected Ravenswood District graduates.

If more homes are built in the area, the overload will be even larger.

In the case of the Woodside plant, the situation is similar, with the exception that large major areas of vacant land—Stanford and Sharon estate properties in the Las Lomitas School District—are yet to be built upon.

The elementary school district is currently facing an expansion problem with which it hopes to provide facilities to meet forseeable needs.

GEORGE MARKEY, organist at Old First Church, Presbyterian, of Newark, N. J., will be presented in recital at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Memorial Church on Stanford University's campus.

QUALITY SERVICE
THE PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY

A Very Serious Purpose in Life...

Like a new-born baby entering this life, from whom great things are expected, the prescription handed you by your Doctor has a purpose. The prescription also has a definite route to follow.

Your prescription's purpose is to provide you with preparations important in restoration or improvement of the health of the person for whom it is intended. It should be brought to the pharmacy without delay. Carefully compounded, and with directions attached, the preparation is then ready to be used to accomplish its high purpose.

Our pharmacy is one of the community's prescription centers, and provides reliable professional service for prescriptions at all times.

Local Couple Drives MG to Top Honors At Peninsula Car Club Rally Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hammond, 5 Manor place, Menlo Park, walked off with top honors at a Friday night rally sponsored by the Peninsula Car club. Competing with 41 other driver-navigator teams, the Hammonds drove their MG through five check stations over a winding course between San Carlos and Sharp Park. The event ended with festivities at a San Mateo restaurant.

Next activity of the club will be an overnight trip to the beach this weekend for members of the group.

Two more rallys are planned by the car club for the near future. One will be held July 22 and the other on August 3.

"SMALL WORLD" DEPARTMENT

Jack Flaherty, driving Rod Carveth's Aston-Martin, gave the driver of a Chevie-powered Maserati something to think about at Buchanan Field road races two weeks ago. In fact, Flaherty was once only three seconds behind the higher-powered car.

Carveth was mighty pleased with the performance of both the driver and his car.

He might well have been mighty pleased that his Aston-Martin didn't beat the Maserati, however, when he flew to Buffalo, N. Y., last week.

The pilot of the ship—Dick Lyons, driver of the Maserati.

JAGUAR OWNERS TO HOLD DINNER

Crow Canyon Chateau will be the setting for the July dinner meeting of the Jaguar Associate Group Friday night. Steak and fish dinners and live music will be featured at the restaurant, which is on Crow Canyon road, a short distance east of Castro Valley.

An amendment to limit membership to persons who actually own Jaguars is one of the latest items adopted by the group.

ATHERTON MAN INSTALLED AS CAR CLUB PRESIDENT

Irvin Goldstine, 20 Tuscaloosa avenue, Atherton, was installed as president of the King's Highway Motor Club at a meeting Friday night at a South Palo Alto restaurant.

The club, which has about 60 members, is one of the oldest in the Bay Area. Most of the members are peninsula residents from an area bounded by San Mateo and San Jose.

Both the new president and his wife have been active in sports car circles, often serving as officials at various road races in the area.

CLUTCH TROUBLE PLAGUES LOCAL DRIVER

Trials preceding a race at Santa Maria Saturday proved too much for the clutch of Rod Carveth's Aston-Martin DB3S. It was a re-occurrence of mechanical difficulties which happened at Salt Lake City races several weeks ago.

Carveth, of Atherton, and his pit crew replaced the clutch before the main race Sunday, but the car traveled a little over 100 feet before it let go again.

Current plans call for a complete overhaul of the Aston-Martin before the August 19 Arcata race. Bigger pistons and special tires are among improvements to be made on the car.

POLESE LOSES SOAP BOX CONTEST

Richard Polese, driving his Menlo Recorder soap box racer, lost in his bid to win the Bay Area derby in San Francisco Saturday. The young driver reported that he passed the safety inspection, but ran into trouble because his car was 50 pounds under the maximum weight. Richard is preparing for next year, including extensive practice.

AN ERA IN SPORTS CAR RACING PASSES

Local enthusiasts are saddened, I'm sure, by the end of road racing in Del Monte Forest at Pebble Beach.

Apparently the race was a victim of too much success. Crowds were becoming so large they were unmanageable, and the cars in the race were getting a little too fast for the narrow, crooked course at Pebble.

After S. F. B. Morse, chairman of Del Monte Properties, made the announcement someone thought of Ft. Ord as a new location but no official action has been taken by the S.C.C.A. yet.

Ord would seem like a natural course for future events, the U.S. Army willing. It's within easy driving distance of the Bay Area and has terrain and roads similar to Pebble Beach.

One thing is certain—the Pebble Beach activity must be transferred somewhere. To drop it would be a serious setback to sports motoring in this country.

Area Babe Ruth Tourney Is Slated 20-21 at Stanford

The all-star district tournament for the Babe Ruth League will be played at Stanford Sunken Diamond July 20 and 21, it was announced today.

Gary Williams of Menlo Park was named tournament director.

Six all-star teams, from Redwood City to San Jose, will compete in the district tourney—the first step toward the Babe Ruth League "World Series."

Tournament teams are North Peninsula all-stars, South Peninsula all-stars, Redwood City all-stars, Sunnyvale all-stars, Santa Clara Valley National League all-stars and Santa Clara Valley American League all-stars.

The opening games on Friday, July 20, will pit North Peninsula against Santa Clara Valley Nationals at 3:30 p.m. and Sunnyvale vs. Redwood City at 5:30 p.m. The winners will play Saturday at 10 a.m. South Peninsula and Santa Clara Valley American draws byes in the opening round and will play Saturday at 1 p.m. The championship game will be Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

The Babe Ruth League, organized nationally in 1952, include an estimated 60,000 boys between the ages of 13 and 15 in all 48 states and Canada. The league was named in honor of the late Babe Ruth, the great home run king of baseball, who died in 1948.

Winner of the local district tournament will compete in the sectional tourney the following week at Stockton. Stockton winner goes to the regionals in Pasadena and then to the World Series.

The Peninsula Babe Ruth League is host for the local tourney.

Sport Shoppers Protect Margin Tonight; Lowe's-Lions Clash in Tie-Breaker Again

Shreve and Pryce Sports Shop, holding the Menlo-Atherton American League lead for the first time since 1953, goes on the spot to protect its narrow edge tonight.

The Sport Shoppers of Dick D'Oliva, Paul Melvin and Dick Ciardella tangle with unpredictable Van de Sande at 6:30 o'clock in the feature game of the doubleheader. Lowe Realtors and the Menlo Lions, tied for the National League lead for the third time during the season, meet in a tie-breaking test for the third time at 5 p.m.

Dick Kelly's Double Gives Shreve-Pryce Verdict Over Realtors

No one can say Dick Kelly isn't doing his level best to keep Shreve and Pryce Sport Shop right in the thick of the American League pennant race.

Kelly doubled in two runs in the fifth inning Tuesday to give the Sport Shoppers a 715 victory over first half champion Seybold and Ferguson and their first undisputed league lead since 1953.

Kelly's blow capped a three-run rally which erased a 5-4 deficit. It was hit off Reliefer Bobby Bengston and returned Steve Swift the winning pitcher.

Rickey Bentley's Run Gives Lions 8-8 Draw

Rickey Bentley continues to be the Menlo Lions' biggest ace-in-the-hole this week following his efforts Monday which netted the Lions a come-from-behind 8-8 tie with All American Market.

Bentley scored on the next to last pitch of the game on a past ball to cap a five-run rally in the sixth inning. Earlier in the frame John Matthews had doubled in two runs.

Arnaudo Hits No. 8 But Kiwanis Rally To Tie Lowe's, 7-7

If the other National League teams could put through a rule making it illegal for Lowe's Phil Arnaudo to take his turn at bat in the first inning the pennant picture might be entirely different.

Arnaudo hit his eighth home run of the season Monday, and for the seventh time cracked a four-master in the first inning. Lowe's had to settle for a 7-7 tie, however, when the Kiwanis rallied for five runs in the last inning.

Arnaudo also doubled and singled to take the hitting laurels.

* * *

Lowe's Mangle Kiwanis, 12-3

The Lowe's stayed at their winning ways as they beat the Menlo Kiwanis by the final score of 12-3 Wednesday, putting the game inthe bag in the last inning as they poured across six big runs.

Gough went all the way for the losers and he pitched a good game but again, errors told the fatal story. He struck out nine men including home run leader Phil Arnaudo twice.

Gough played good all-around. He banged a single and a double at the plate. Jim Wiechers got two safeties as did John Holbach for the Kiwanis. The Kiwanis as a team made seven errors and slammed six hits. They scored two of their three runs in the second inning.

The Lowe's on the other hand, bobbled only two balls and they led the hitting department with 10. Wagner fot two hits. Marty Christiansen and Hannay got two-base blows. Hannay got two RBI's and Christiansen drove across three men.

J-W Hits Clothiers For 15-4 Victory

Judd and Wright scored 10 tallies in the third frame Wednesday to set the stage for whipping Van de Sande Clothiers, 15-4.

What told the final outcome of the game was Judd and Wright's strong hitting. Cubby Welch blasted a two run homer and Havard just barely missed a round-tripper as it fell short of the fence for a double. Bob Scott hit two doubles and Mike Gocke also came through with two base hits. All in all Judd and Wright got eight hits and they committed three errors as against Van de Sande's six hits and four errors.

The starting and losing pitcher was Steve Berg. He was relieved in the bottom half of the second by Paul White. Very shortly he was relieved by Pete Campbell. Nobody could seem to hold Judd and Wright's powerful hitters.

Mike Cruver was the only heavy hitter for Van de Sande as he got two hits including a double. The losers scored two of their four runs in the third inning.

Hannay, Christiansen Pitch Lowe's Victory

They're going to have a tough time getting Lowe Realtors out of first place in the National League as long as Jim Hannay and Marty Christiansen keep firing top-notch baseball.

Hannay and Christiansen combined to stop All American Market with two hits Saturday as Lowe's opened the second half with a 6-1 victory.

* * *

Lions Rally to Tip Kiwanis 5-3

The Menlo Lions took a 5-3 decision from the Menlo Kiwanis last Friday. The winners were trailing the Kiwanis in the third inning by the score of 3-1 but they fought back to win the game. The Kiwanis outhit the Lions seven to five but made more errors too. The Lions made three and the losers made four.

The winning pitcher was Bob Gugliemetti, who struck out 10 men in going the entire distance. The losing hurler was Jimmy Wiechers, who struck out five.

For the Kiwanis, Paul Dance got two-for-two and drove in two runs. Wiechers and John Holback got one two-base hit each.

Greg Mikkelsen got a single and a double and Darryl DeZur slammed a double for the Lions.

Menlo Park's four Peninsula Babe Ruth League baseball teams, three of which are engaged in a neck-and-neck battle for the Northern Division lead, clash in important cross-town battles to feature Saturday's play.

The league has gone back to a two-game a week schedule for the final two weeks of the season and no games will be played tonight.

Two red-hot winning streaks go on the block when league-leading Menlo Greys tangle with Lowe Realtors at 2 p.m. Saturday at Flood Park. The Greys have won 10 of their last 12 games in surging to first place and Lowe's, after a weak start, has won six of its last eight starts and is now just a few percentage points out of second place.

The Red Cottage, which moved into second place Tuesday, will attempt to end a two-game Menlo Motors' win streak and strengthen its own position in a 10 a.m. game at Menlo-Atherton.

In other 10 a.m. games, the Los Altos White Sox meet Southern Division champion Palo Alto Sport Shop at Los Altos high school; the Redwood City Knights of Columbus attempt to snap a five game losing streak against the Red Sox, winners of three straight, at Community park in Redwood City and Spiro's play Doug Couch, loser of six of its last seven starts, at El Camino park.

League play resumes next Tuesday with the following games:

Los Altos Red Sox vs. Spiro's at Los Altos, Knights vs. Red Cottage at Community park, Menlo Motors vs. Lowe's at Flood, Doug Couch vs. White Sox at M-A, Sport Shop vs. Greys at Wilbur Junior high.

Mike Cruver Blasts 2 Homers in 1 Game

Van de Sande's Mike Cruver this week can tell you just what its like to brush with fame in a Little League game. Cruver came within one foot of being the first Menlo-Atherton Little League player ever to hit three home runs in one game as the Clothiers upset Seybold and Ferguson 10-2 last Saturday.

Cruver bombed two home runs out of the park and had a third smash bound off the centerfield fence just one foot from the top. He finished the day with two homers and two doubles in four times at bat and five runs batted in.

In addition, Cruver combined with Pete Campbell and Paul White to hurl a one-hitter at the Realtors.

TENNIS PLAY WINNERS

Steve Anderson and Mike Warren were declared winners of a recent beginners' doubles tennis tournament for fifth and sixth grade-age boys, at Menlo-Atherton high school's courts. The activity is sponsored by the city recreation department.

Mary Mahaney Anchors Record 800-Meter Relay

Mary Mahaney's tremendous list of swimming achievements had been lengthened this week with her participation in a record-setting national junior 800-meter freestyle relay last Thursday at the Senior Women's National AAU Swimming and Diving championships at Tyler, Texas.

The Atherton miss swam the anchor lap of the Santa Clara Swim Club team with Jane Wilson, Kathy Barry and Doxie Ransom in 10:40.6. The time was almost one minute better than the old record of 11:31.0 set by the Riviera Club of Indianapolis in 1953.

Friday Miss Mahaney finished seventh and Carol Tait of East Palo Alto finished fourth in a meet-record-setting 400-meter free style. Marley Shriver of Los Angeles won in 5:13.8 compared to 5:23.9 for Miss Tait and 5:35 for Miss Mahaney.

Those two teamed with 12-year old sensation Chris von Salza of Los Gatos and Miss Wilson to chase the Walter Reed Swim Club tea mof Washington, D.C., to a new American record of 10:09.8 in the 800-meter freestyle relay. The local squad did 10:22.8.

Walter Reed won the team championship with Los Angeles Athletic Club second.

Summer Casaba Set to Start Next Tuesday

Eleven 'teenagers' summer basketball league teams are all ready to take to the maple at Burgess Park gym when play gets under way next week but, reports Stan Sexton, in charge of the affair, three of the teams haven't yet pungled up with forfeit fees which assure participation.

Hence, he said yesterday, a schedule hasn't been drafted yet, and nobody knew, as of yesterday, which teams will get the nod and when the first toss-up is made at 7 p.m. next Tuesday night. Nightcaps will get under way at 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. the same evening.

Sexton said that the gym has been reserved for use by teams of the league on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, for the remainder of the summer. This should allow a double round robin of play.

Names of the teams which have officially registered, albeit, some are still rounding up the nominal charge which is supposed to keep them conscious of the fact that they're supposed to get there include Jerry's, the Skins, Veerers, Gore's Allstars, Swor's Champs, the Redskins, the Violets, the Eagles, Spartans, Comets, and De-Feo's.

Legion Battles Palo Alto

AMERICAN LEGION DISTRICT 26 BASEBALL FINAL 1st HALF STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Menlo Adobe	6	2	.750	—
East Palo Alto	5	3	.625	1
Redwood City	5	3	.625	1
San Carlos	3	5	.375	3
San Bruno	1	7	.125	5

East Palo Alto American Legion Post 472's junior baseball team, its tournament dreams shattered on the last day of play for the second straight season, goes back to the diamond wars this Sunday for the start of second half District 26 play.

Coach Dave Dahle's troops play two games—one a league contest—Sunday afternoon at Flood Park. Dahle sends the squad against rival Palo Alto Post 375 in an interleague game at 12:30 and then meets San Carlos Post 585 in a second-half opening District 26 game at 3 o'clock.

Dahle announced that Dick Sanchez, owner of a two-hit, 14-strikeout victory last week, would pitch against Palo Alto with big Bob Ralls going against San Carlos.

Although the East Paly-Palo Alto rivalry has always been hot, the Dahlemen have a special score to settle with their Northern counterpart Sunday.

It was a surprise — and overwhelming—defeat at the hands of San Carlos last Sunday which knocked East out of a possible area tournament bid.

League-leading Menlo Adobe Post 828 was upset by San Bruno in the first game of a doubleheader 3-2, but backed into an undisputed first half championship when San Carlos turned the tables on East to the tune of 17-4.

An East victory would have thrown the District race into a tie and required a special play-off this week to determine the representative to tournament action which begins this weekend.

As it stands Menlo-Adobe will face District 9 champion El Cerrito in a best-of-three elimination beginning Saturday. The winner will play District 10 champion Bill Irwin Post of Oakland the following weekend.

No such tournament reward will be forthcoming to the second half District 26 winner.

The locals were shelled out qiuckly last Sunday as San Carlos drilled Bob Ralls off the hill and took an 8-1 lead in the first inning. Sanchez, not completely rested from his triumph four days earlier, took a similar beating the remaining five innings.

Ralls actually lasted just two-thirds of an inning, giving up eight hits and six runs before bowing. Sanchez surrendered six hits and 11 runs the rest of the way.

San Carlos ripped three home runs, two of them in the giant, first. Gene Bamberg hit a two-runner as the second batter for the winners and Darryl Stuart hit a three-run smash later in the frame. Bruce Day homered with no one in the fourth.

Charley Dahl, Cliff Gwartney and Captain Don De Feo each rapped two hits for East.

Sanchez had a o-hit, no-run

Area Legion Tourney Opens Saturday At Vet's Hospital

Menlo-Adobe Post 828, American Legion Junior Baseball champion for District 26, begins its best-of-three game area playoff series with El Cerrito's District 9 champions Saturday at 2 p.m. at Menlo Park Veteran's Hospital diamond.

The series will move to El Cerrito Sunday for second, and if necessary, third games.

Menlo-Adobe Coach Jim Knecht announced the following starting lineup for Saturday's game:

Jimmy Ryan, cf; Jim Knecht, lf; Angelo Colombo, p; Al Kirkes, 3b; Mickey Geenen, c; Stan Lauffer, 2b; Jack Foley, 1b; Larry Britton, ss; Billy Lea, rf.

Knecht named Kirkes to pitch the first game Sunday and Foley to work the final game if it is necessary.

Tonight:

GC, Allstars, LDS and Derry's To Be Featured in B Loop Play

Menlo Park recreation department-sponsored B league softball teams were to resume hostilities last night with Menlo Motors and McQuarie's drugs taking to the diamond at 9 p.m.

What the standings in the six-team loop actually were got a little fogged last week, as a scheduled July 4 game between GC Liquors and the Latter-Day Saints was scratched.

But last Thursday, McQuarrie's overcame the luckless Derry Feed and Fuel nine, 10-5, and the Menlo Motors overcame the West Menlo All-stars, 11-2.

Tonight at 7 p.m., the Liquormen and the All-stars are to tangle at 7 p.m.; the LDS and Derry's are to clash in the nightcap.

In spite of their poor appearance in the score book, the All-stars came up with the hitters last week, with both Wayne Marino and Roger Postlewaite hitting home runs.

The winners had to grind out their runs the slow way with G. Gallagher and B. Bishop proving to be the big sticks, with three for five and two for four respectively including three-base hits each.

Jim Derry and Wade Hampton did most of the damage for McQuarrie's, getting two-base hits. Dick D'Oliva and Dick Jorgenson of Derry's tgo three-sackers each.

I League Nines Don't Surprise At Nealon Park

With neither of the two top teams in the circuit playing Tuesday night, the remaining four aggregations had themselves a ball at Nealon Park, although the results didn't show any big upsets.

The two top teams, of course, are the Stanford Research Blues and the Public Employees. Both have three wins and no losses.

The Linfield Oaks A's got their first win this week by clobbering a hapless Hardware Mutual crew, 34-4 in the nightcap under Nealon's soon-to-be-improved lights, and the Grays took a 11-6 decision over the equally hapless U.S. Geological Survey. In three starts, neither Hardware or USGS has managed to put together a victory.

Nevertheless, the losers had moments of glory. Wayne Huddleston of the USGS managed a two-bagger and a home run in two times at bat and George Edwards of Hardware Mutual got two for two, including a three-sacker.

Big stick of the A's was Hank Burget, who got three home runs in five trips to the plate, just about bringing the roof down on the insurance men.

Last night, after the Recorder went to press, those two top teams were to tangle, at 7 p.m., in what appeared to be the decisive game of the first round of play.

And next Tuesday, when games resume in the league, Allstate and the Blues are to meet at 7 p.m. and Hardware Mutual and the USCG are to meet at 9 p.m.

Since, as of Tuesday, all four teams were evenly matched in the standings, these could be good games.

Shreve and Pryce Upsets Realtors

Shreve and Pryce Sport Shop upset first place Seybold and Ferguson last Thursday 6-3, coming from behind a 2-0 deficit to tie the game and finally win it.

Seybold and Ferguson's sloppy fielding behind the four-hit pitching of Ken Hadden told the story. They committed six costly errors and the Sport Shop only made two misques. Seybold and Ferguson could get only three hits off Roddy Pommes and Mike Cashin who handled the pitching chores for Shreve and Pryce. The only person who could find their pitching was John DeGracia. He got two of the losers three hits including a home run.

Steve Swift got two of the Sport Shop's four hits, including a double. Lee Hammett hit his second home run of the year with one man on base. The big inning for the winners was the fifth in which they picked up three runs to put the game in the bag.

Coach Frank Bettencourt's Menlo Park recreation department Seniors baseball team faces a pretty sharp San Carlos recreation department baseball nine with a good deal more confidence this week than they would have seven days ago, having whipped a Sharp Park menage 15-5 last Sunday at Flood park.

The victory took some of the sting out of a previous defeat suffered at the hands of Palo Alto's American Legion team. But whether or not the locals were getting good, or Bettencourt just happened to have the right combination of players back from vacation, was pretty much open to argument.

The game started slowly and Sharp Park was ahead, 3-2, when Menlo came to bat at the bottom of the fifth. Sharp's Grant Gay, who'd pitched a good game up to that point, got tired and showed his fatigue by letting Menlo get eight hits and 12 runs.

To be sure, it wasn't all his fault. His teammates, who garnered five errors during the contest as a whole, managed to let two of them slip through in the fifth to add to the carnage.

Winning pitcher Roger Thompson didn't really have one of his classier days, striking out only five before relinquishing the hill to Jerry Reed for the last two cantos.

The locals had only one error afield. Even so, most of the damage came in the for mof hits of the hapless Gay:

Adrian Ledda got four for five, including one double; Jerry Reed got two for five, Mike Lewis got two for three and Thompson, when not on the hill, showed an aim good enough to get him two doubles in two times at bat.

NOT AROUND

San Carlosians can look with some pleasure on the fact that Thompson won't be around for Sunday's go. He'll be on vacation, according to Bettencourt.

The coach, meanwhile, averred that the hosts up the highway have a pretty good chance of standing off the locals. Carlmont high school had a championship frosh-soph baseball tam during the spring and many of its members are now in the rec department cast.

Probable starters for the game, which will be played at 2 p.m. Sunday at the San Carlos rec center, are Adrian Ledda at shortstop; Wayne Marino at second base or catching if Dick Calloway isn't back from vacation to take the latter chore; Jerry Reed at third; Ray Pancharian at first; Pete Lee at left field; Donn at center field and Lindy Guerra at right field.

Mike Lewis will probably start on the hill, says Bettencourt, and Reed and Thomas will be called in from the outfield if the going gets rough.

Cubby Welch Homers As Judd-Wright Wins

If Cubby Welch of Judd and Wright wasn't pitcher John Kellam's best friend before Monday, he is now. Wright socked a two-run home run to give Kellam a 3-0 pitching victory over Van de Sande.

Mike Gocke also rates a man-sized pat on the back from Kellam for rapping two doubles and scoring two of the winners' runs. Kellam scattered six hits, the same amount his mates garnered off Van de Sande's Mike Cruver.

Bill Summers Leads Market to 3-3 Tie

Bill Summers appears determined to keep All American Market from being completely obliterated in the National League race this year. Summers accounted for all three runs last Thursday and the Marketmen pulled a surprise 3-3 tie with the Menlo Lions out of the hat.

Summers scored the tying run in the last half of the final inning when he walked, stole second and third and kicked the ball from the catcher John Mathews' glove on an attempted theft of home. He rapped a two-run home run in the first inning to account for the other run.

Winners Named For 'Wheels' Contest at Parks

Everything from decorated carpet sweepers and lawn mowers to bikes and tricycles was entered in last week's decorated wheels parade events at playgrounds in Menlo Park, a resume of the activity showed this week, as recreation department officials tallied up the prizes awarded at the five locations for the events .

Prizes of merchandise at Foster's Freeze in Menlo Park were awarded to children from the city's five playgrounds.

Winners from Flood school were: Steve Cox, Mary Maher, Michael Lynch, Virginia Tygret, Pat Heffern, Linda Ann Nylan, Billy and Jimmie O'Donald, Ronnie Ackerman, Pat and Joan Mueller.

From Belle Haven winners were: Mike, Patty and Susan Doro, Lorrie Young, Edith Alley and Larry Jones.

From Hillview: Laurie and Dorothy Miner, John and Jim Wilder, Arthur Cardoza, Johnny Shane, Louis Vanoli, David Conrad, Tom Dickson and Herman Delz.

Winners at Nealon park; John, Cheryl, Kenny and Bonnie Heinbockel, Sally Anderson, Helen Hadden, Kathy Roach, Janice Prein, Robert Verga, Mary Jean Oliva, Carol Farueson and Linda Bell.

At Willow award winners were: Howard Cornelius, Tom, Kathy and Mary Prusmack, John Reynolds, Billy Marcus, David and Marcia Gurley and Nancy Cole.

Blockhead winners, the weekly contest, were Peter Dupont, Jane Roach, Richard Cole and Hank Gonzales.

game going for five and two-thirds innings against San Bruno on the Fourth of July. Gary Wilkin lined a single to right to break up the ace but Sanchez, though tiring the last two innings, still finished with a 8-1, two-hit win and 14 strikeouts. He walked just two and was almost never behind the count.

East broke a scoreless tie in the fourth when DeFeo singled in two runs and stole home for a 3-0 lead. San Bruno's Darryl Weber was no problem after that.

Bob Wendell singled in two runs in the sixth. Ray Blouin doubled across Larry Irwin and scored on Sanchez' single in the seventh.

Wendell, DeFeo and Blouin each counted two hits.

Anderson scattered six hits, struck out nine and walked five to pick up a 9-5 victory over Redwood City Post 105 in the second game of the Independence Day doubleheader.

East jumped off to a three-run lead in the first and were never challenged. Catcher Mike Mirsky singled and homered in two trips. DeFeo and Jim Finegold each blasted three hits.

"PLAYS AND PLAYERS" is the title of the first of two informal talks to be given by Jay Carmody, drama critic of the Washington Star, to be given today at the Little theater, Memorial Hall, on Stanford campus. The talks are open to the public without charge, and today's begins at 4:15 p.m.

Menlo Park Teams To Finish In Top Spots in Babe Ruth

After two years of comparative obscurity, it looks like an all-Menlo Park finish in the Northern Division of the Peninsula Babe Ruth League this season.

The division leading Menlo Greys upped their lead to two games Tuesday but the Red Cottage and Lowe Realtors both held the pace to set the scene for a terrific wind-up in the next two weeks.

The Greys nipped Doug Couch 6-5, the Red Cottage belted Spiro's 15-10, Lowe Realtors upset Palo Alto Sport Shop 13-10 and Menlo Motors, though out of contention, won its second straight by a 4-3 score over Redwood City Knights of Columbus. In the other game the Los Altos Red Sox won a cross-town battle from the White Sox 20-5.

Couch's Bill Skinner allowed the Greys only two hits, but the losers made the most possible of seven walks and three Couch errors. Roger Postlewaite allowed seven hits and struck out 11 in claiming the win.

Skinner pitched no-hit baseball after allowing a double to Herb Masi and a single to Court Smith in the first inning. Masi drove in two runs.

John McWilliam tripled and scored to bring Couch to within one run in the seventh. Thomas singled twice for Couch.

Lynn Larson cracked a home run, triple and single and drove in seven runs as Lowe's ended the Sport Shop's 12-game win skein. Roger Hedge, winning pitcher Al Pryal and Terry Maloney all hit twice for Lowe's.

Larson's three-bagger drove in two runs to break a 7-7 tie in the sixth and put Lowe's in front for good.

Rick Malloch homered and singled, Bob Lauritz lashed three singles and 13-year-old right fielder Ernie Millan got a perfect four-for-four for Sport Shop.

One-armed star Terry Baker led Red Cottage from a 99-1 deficit in the third inning to its impressive win over Spiro's. Baker rapped three singles in four times at bat to up his seasonal average to .667. He also was the winning pitcher, his third triumph against one defeat.

Larry Falstrom hit three singles in three attempts, John Nash tripled with two on and soloed twice and Bucky Clark tripled with two on and singled for the Cottage. Holmes topped Spiro's with three-for-three.

The Cottage finished fast offensively and defensively. His mates belted nine of their 16 hits in the last two innings and Baker responded by striking out five of the last six batters to total 13 whiffs for the game.

Joe Fessio tossed a two-hitter against the Knights. He issued only a single to Jim Weeks in the second and a triple to Gary Hughes in the seventh. Hughes was thrown out trying to steal home with the tying run.

Menlo Motors got just three hits — singles by Rosy Jones,, Mal Akutagawa and Don Pressley. Fession walked two and struck out three.

The White Sox contributed 16 bases on balls and 1 errors to the Red Sox cause. Rick Tippett drove in four of the winners' runs with two triples and Marv Yarnell led the White Sox with a three-run double.

Early South Title Shifts Attention North In Babe Ruth Race

Palo Alto Sport Shop had already wrapped up its third consecutive Southern Division championship this week but indications were that the battle for the Northern Division title might go all the way down to the wire in the hottest race in Peninsula Babe Ruth League history.

After last Saturday's action, only two games separated the first and fourth place teams in the five-club Northern Division.

The Menlo Greys maintained a one-game lead despite a 13-12 loss to Spiro's as second place Redwood City Knights of Columbus were losing to Sport Shop 13-4. Lowe Realtors and the Red Cottage remained just two games off the pace; Lowe's drubbed the White Sox 15-2 while the Cottage booted a crack at second place by losing to the Red Sox 6-0.

Only Menlo Motors was out of contention but even the Motormen had a brief moment of success, walloping Doug Couch 20-8.

The lead changed hands four times and the score was tied twice before Spiro's pulled off its upset of the Greys on pitcher Larry Mohr's double with none out in the last half of the seventh. Mohr's blow drove in Mike Garbett, who had singled, and Joe Mihms, who had doubled, with the winning tallies.

Mohr had four hits, including another double, in the game. Ronny Holmes, Ernie Hanson and Jim Collart all hit twice for Spiro's.

Roger Postlewaite drove in four runs with a double and two solos and Buddy Jones got two-for-two for the Greys. Mohr got John Potter to ground out in the second inning, ending Potter's streak of 13 straight times on base.

Lowe's smashed 11 hits off three White Sox pitchers as the Realtors moved up in the race. Stu Colpitts opened a seven-run barrage in the third when he tripled with one on. Colpitts also singled while Al Pryal and Lynn aLrson each hit twice.

White Sox catcher Jim Bellows broke his ankle in the third inning when he attempted to block the plate. Bellows' is the first serious injury of the season.

Marv Yarnell collected two of the losers' seven hits off Bob Strawther. Strawther walked two and struck out four.

Willy James collared the Red Cottage with a one-hitter as the Red Sox scored their second straight win after a string of eight losses.

Roosevelt Jones led a tremendous Menlo Motors assault with a double and home run.

Tom Bridges racked up pitching win No. 6 as the Sport Shop won its 12th game without a loss. Bridges got long-ball help from Rick Malloch and Neil Parkin.

Menlo Greys Are Real Surprise After Last Place Finish in '55

Even if the Menlo Greys don't win the Northern Division championship in the Peninsula Babe Ruth League this season, it will have to be admitted they put on the greatest comeback performance in league history.

Last season the Greys finished dead-last in the division, winning only one game and losing 17. They opened the 1956 campaign inauspiciously, dropping their first two starts.

But last Thursday Coach Frank Bettencourt guided the Greys to their ninth victory in the last 10 starts and into undisputed possession of first place in the division. The big win came by a 5-3 score in a tight, dispute-filled contest with the Redwood City Knights of Columbus, two-time division champion and league-leader this season until Thursday.

Roger Postlewaite heroed the triumph. He scattered six hits for the pitching win and broke a tie score in the fifth inning by rapping a 3-0 pitch for a single to right to score John Potter and Herb Masi.

Masi had knotted the score by singling in Par Partemi moments earlier. Postlewaite had another single to drive in three runs altogether and Masi also singled twice.

Potter, the league's leading hitter, reached first on a walk, single and error in three attempts to run his string of times on base to 1 straight and give him an "on base" percentage of more than .700 for the season. He scored three of the five Greys' runs.

Jim Fregosi and Tom Foley each singled twice for the Knights. The loser's infield sparklind with two double plays, both started by third-baseman Tim Cullen.

A budding Knight rally was nipped in the seventh inning on a disputed force-play at second base. The Knights claimed Dom Ascani came off the bag to take the throw. Had the runner been safe the Knights would have had the bases loaded with two outs.

The Red Cottage nipped Doug Couch 8-7, but the losers protested the game on the contention that the official scorer failed to count one of Couch's runs.

Menlo Motors nearly nipped Palo Alto Sport Shop's winning skein at 10 straight, but fell 4-3 when Cappy Pinney was thrown out trying to steal home with the bases loaded in the last inning.

Pinney, who socked three singles in three times, beat the pitch from Tim McCowan but slid into the batter. Bob Gunther failed to move out of the box and blocked his own teammate off from the plate, enabling catcher Niel Parkin to make the tag.

Brown Taylor and Parkin accounted for all the winners' runs. Taylor drove in two with a single, double and triple in three trips and Parkin singled and doubled to chase across the other two. Bob Talbot stole four bases for the winners.

The Los Altos Red Sox ended an eight game losing streak at the expense of Stu Colpitts and Lowe Realtors 8-7. The Reds blasted Colpitts for 11 hits, including two each by Rick Tippett, Bob Tippett and Jim Perry.

Colpitts almost saved his own game when he doubled in two runs in the sixth inning, but the rally fell one short. He also hit a pair of singles to lead Lowe hitting.

Greg Chiotti blasted two home runs and a single to drive in a total of four runs as the White Sox rallied from a 12-5 deficit to edge Spiro's 14-12.

The White Sox totaled 17 hits. Jim Bellows tripled with two on, Denny Murakami tripled, Bart Crawford singled three times and Gary Chiotti double twice and singled.

Penny Carnival Set for Friday At Ladera

Tomorrow, Friday, July 13, has been set as date for a "Penny Carnival" at Ladera school for children using the playground there.

The affair is a fundraiser for an even greater and finer event planned for later in the month, according to Playground Director Iris Kreigler; money raised will be used to buy WATERMELONS (!!!!) for a play day set for July 20.

All sorts of booths and games will be set up to help lure coppers away from their owners—a step felt necessary because about 100 youngsters have been showing up for weekly special events recently.

Beyond the play day and watermelon eating, patrons of the playground are looking forward to a play and talent show set for July 27 and a big "family picnic" event set for the evening of Aug. 2. The latter will feature all kinds of parents-and-child games, in addition to regular playground activities.

Recent events at Ladera have included a collectors' show, and a Fourth of July parade.

We will be back from our vacation next MONDAY, JULY 16th

Peninsula Symphony Board Meets For Organizational Session

On Monday, the newly elected board of directors of the Peninsula Symphony Association met in the offices of the Ampex Corporation in Redwood City at 8 p.m. for the first organizational session.

John Zuckerman of Palo Alto, elected president at the annual meeting in June will assign committee chairmanships at this time. The executive committee of the board, elected to serve with Zuckerman, includes Richard Reyna of Burlingame and James R. Hedge and Edmund D. Mason of Redwood City, vice presidents; Mrs. John E. Rockwell, San Carlos, secretary and Paul Sturgeon, Menlo Park, treasurer.

All directors of the board have been chosen, according to the by-laws, with a view to representing the geographical, economic, cultural and other interests on the Peninsula.

Local area directors, including Sturgeon of the executive committee, are:

Miss Susan E. Gale, 417 Glenwood avenue, Menlo Park. Miss Gale, Menlo Park's city historian, has retired after 33 years in banking. She is charter president of the Palo Alto Soroptimist Club and has been on the board of the Peninsula Symphony Association.

Mrs. A. H. Isenberg, 451 Portola road, Woodside. Mrs. Isenberg, with her husband have been longtime sponsors of the association and she was elected to the board last year. She is a member of Guide Dogs for the Blind, the Children's Health Council of the Mid-Peninsula and the Woodside-Atherton Garden Club.

LIBRARIAN

Mrs. Ione Long,, 1010 Hollyburne avenue, Menlo Park, is employed at Moffett Field. She has served as librarian for the 65-member orchestra, conducted by Aaron Sten, for the past five years.

Mrs. Joseph A. Scaroni Jr., 630 Olive avenue, Menlo Park. A free lance publicity writer, Mrs. Scaroni has worked with the board for the past two years. Previously she was women's editor and general news editor on peninsula weekly papers and now is a correspondent for the Recorder.

Sturgeon, who lives on Hollyburne avenue, Menlo Park, is employed with a peninsula electronics firm. He is the principal violinist in the orchestra and has served on the board at various times. Last year he was fund campaign chairman.

Don S. Smith, 270 Selby lane, Atherton. An importer of fine pianos for the United States, Canada and Mexico, Smith divides his time between two places of business on the peninsula and the above-mentioned territory. He arranges concerts with these pianos for professionals and aspiring young artists. This is his third year on the board of directors.

Other members of the board of directors include Albert Coen, Millbrae; Mrs. Richard Beckett, George A. Boden Jr., Robert L. Clark, Mrs. Herbert Koyen and Mrs. Marguerite Stoddard, San Mateo; T. Kevin Mallin, Belmont.

Dan Farris, Mrs. Dortha Rogers, San Carlos; Charles Huyck, Harold Lindsay, Ronald R. Spink and Clifton H. Woodhams Sr., Redwood City and Mrs. R. J. de Cristoforo, Los Altos.

Directors Start Rick Choplin Against Bullets

Righthander Rick Choplin will make his pitching debut for the Menlo Directors Saturday afternoon in a return game with the Belle Haven Bullets at 2 p.m. at Menlo-Atherton.

Southpaw Roosevelt Jones will probably start for the Bullets.

Big Bob Mize, working his last game prior to induction into the army, pitched the Directors to a 6-5 season-opening victory over the Bullets at M-A last Saturday. Mize allowed five hits, walked six and struck out eight.

Tom Crane heroed the victory, driving in the winning run with two out and the bases loaded in the last half of the last inning. Crane bounced a single to left field to score Dennis Anderson from third base.

Directors' outfielder Dave Sundquist led both teams in hitting with three singles and a walk in four trips. Crane singled twice as did Wayne Marino of the Bullets.

MENLO MEN SCORE IN PALO ACE CHASE

Lloyd McGovern of Menlo Park won a new Ford worth $2,300 in a contest in connection with the PALO Club's 10th annual Hole-in-One tournament which closed Sunday. Ray Bruton of Menlo Park won a $75 bond from Eichler Homes for finishing in fourth place in the tourney standings with a shot 3⅝ inches from the cup.

WIN ARCHERY TOURNEY

Bill Swift was recent high point man in an archery tournament sponsored by the city recreation department at Burgess Park, scoring 149 points. Ken Cauwet was second with 88 points.

Upcoming on July 26:

Youngsters Plan Penny Carnival As Part of Week-long Program

Youngsters in the Ravenswood Park, Recreation and Parkway District will hold their fourth annual Penny Carnival in the Corral of the Ravenswood Social Center, Thursday, July 26, as a part of Carnival Week of the summer playground program.

Approximately 30 booths have been planned, including ones for hot dogs, soft drinks and games of skill.

The entire carnival is being planned, decorated and manned by Ravenswood Teen and T'ween Club members and youngsters who participate in supervised play at Brentwood, Green Oaks, Farrell Park and the Recreation Center.

Those who have not yet signed up to take part in the carnival may do so at the playgrounds or at the Recreation Center.

Carnival workers are in the process of collecting comic books and used "white elephant" toys and ask residents who wish to donate books or toys in good usable condition to leave them at the Social Center, 550 Bell street. The district stipulates that no horror or murder "comics" will be accepted.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used both to finance watermelon "feeds" at all playgrounds and the center later this summer and partially to finance the recreation auction the last week of the summer program.

LL Farm Teams In Competition; Nealonites Win

Menlo Park recreation department-sponsored Little League farm teams got inter-playground competition underway at two playgrounds last week, with only two teams throughout the city staying out of the action and retaining their schedule of practice on their regular turf.

Actually, it was pretty much a sectional series of games.

Nealon park teams rapped Hillview's minions 9-7 in the 9-and-under division and pasted the same outfit 10-4 in the 10-to-13-year-old game.

Willow school playground's 9-and-under farm team proved a poor host to a similar team from Belle Haven school, inviting the bayside lads over and then trimming them 12-9. The older boys made up for this, however, waxing the Willowites 14-8.

Teams representing James Flood school were the ones which drew the byes. They continued workouts with an eye to cleaning up everything in sight, when they get into the fracas tomorrow.

Clarence Derwent Plays at Stanford

STANFORD — Clarence Derwent, who has just finished a Broadway role in Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya," will be an artist-in-residence at Stanford University during the month of August, it was announced this week.

He will appear with the Stanford Players in a new play by Dana Burnet, "The Question," with Aline MacMahon, stage and screen actress. Miss MacMahon is already on the campus as artist-in-residence for the summer quarter.

"The Question" tells of a family which lost its only son in the Korean war. Burnet based it on a story of his which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

Derwent, for many years resident of Actors' Equity Association, is noted for his Shakespearean role, especially Shylock. During his long career on the English and American stage he has appeared in every play by Shakespeare except one.

McKAY WINS NET MATCH

Sandy McKay of Menlo Park teamed with Harper Ink of Palo Alto to win the junior veterans' doubles championship in the Oakland City Tennis Tournament last week. They defeated J. B. Cantrell and Alex Swetka of San Francisco in the finals 6-4, 6-3.

Down to Earth:

Nature's Way of Filling Garden Bare Spots Can Bring Surprises

By TERRY LEE

One cannot escape having bare spots in the garden this time of year with spring bulb foliage all gone and the early petunias and cinerarias looking very sad.

I have three flowers that continue to pop up until the frost quiets them down for next spring. Actually, the old plants die, but self-reseeding goes on all summer so I always have new plants. These wonderful flowers are alyssum, marigolds, and calendula.

I scattered white alyssum seed around new junipers last spring, and now have a wonderful ground cover. I have sheared the old plants, and they will bloom again with the new ones.

We have a great clump of yellow pigmy marigolds by the corner of the porch which have been in bloom since April, and a little goldfinch would gladly spread the seed all over my garden. I can't think of a gayer ground cover. My children keep hoping some day we will find that white marigold!

My calendulas have been just as gay about flowering and keeping alive year after year.

Petunias will also offer to reseed, but the new plants will probably be single and have purple markings. And you never know what the next zinnia will be. About this time of year, zinnias and asters bought as little plants from the nurseryman should give you a fine display in a few weeks.

I am rather dependent on geraniums for my summer garden, and the greenness of chrysanthemums to fill in the spots where bulbs were. I do like the blue daisy, agathea, which is a kin to the shastas and marguerites, and the blue lily-of-the-nile (agapanthus) to cool off the hot colors and atmosphere one is liable to get in August.

One can hardly underestimate the shrubs that flower during the summer. Pink is the strongest color, and escallonias and abelias will grow for anyone. I like the white oleanders and star jasmine because they are so cool in the hot daylight, and shine so at night.

While everyone needs the early flowers of daphne, camellias, flowering plums and daffodils, it is delightful to have flowers in the summer when the weather is so fine and patios become another room.

Being outside in the sun brings one around to wishing for a shade tree, and right now the Modesto ash, fruitless mulberry, olive and native oak look the best of all. We have been so pleased with the quick shade, windbreak and screen the dollar eucalyptus has given us in a difficut, hot, dry spot.

We also love the tiny redwods we planted two years ago. They have grown three feet a year and are thick and elegant and fragrant.

A little pin oak has done as well, and I only wish more people planted the trees that are so special to this part of California.

* * *

GARDEN CALENDAR WEEK OF JULY 12

Iris clumps can be divided and the leaves cut back to make a four inch fan.

Marguerites should be cut back to foot-long stems. This is hard to do when the plants are still flowering, but new growth will pop out immediately and be handsome for fall.

Shasta daisies are treated the same way.

* * *

July is the deadline for pruning all spring flowering shrubs and vines. Later pruning may remove some of next year's flower buds. Shrubs like wigelia that send up ne wcanes should have old wood cut out at ground level. The last planting of corn, beans and gladiolus should be made.

* * *

If your begonias are getting tall, support them with bamboo stakes. The stems are brittle and even a strong wind will snap them. When they begin to flower, give them a light feeding of fish emulsion and it will work miracles.

* * *

Geraniums, on the other hand, do not need feeding or much water in the summer or they will be all foliage. I keep them planted near native shrubs for just this reason. It is nice to have a corner you can neglect. The soil should dry out between waterings. Plant geraniums rather close, as the plants have small root systems.

* * *

Though your lawn may not look so perfect, it has a much greater chance of survival if you set the mower blades as high as they can go.

You can also leave the clippings unless they are wet and heavy. This will hold in moisture and provide shade, both of which inhibit the growth of crabgrass.

The chemicals that treat crabgrass are very good, but not matter which one is used, it will temporarily discolor the lawn grass. Treatment is essential if you had a lot of crabgrass last year.

Western Theme To Take Over At Playgrounds

Rootin', tootin' cowboys and cowgirls will be the vogue during the fourth week of the Ravenswood Park, Recreation and Parkway District's summer program.

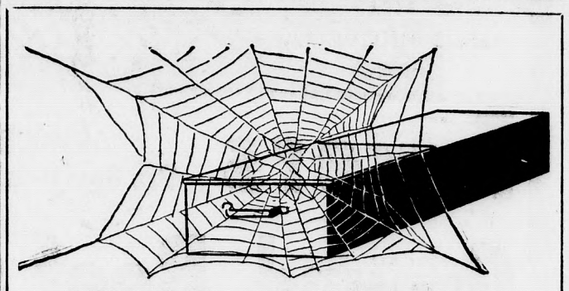

The fourth week, designated Western and Frontier week, runs from July 16-20. It is part of the district's "Recreation through Participation" summer theme.

A cowboy dress-up day will be conducted and story hours will include tales centering around the old West, including stories about Buffalo Bill, Pecos Bill and Paul Bunyan.

Boys and girls who would like to participate in the playground program will find supervision at both Brentwood and Green Oaks Schools from 9:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The same hours also include Farrell Park where supervision will also be available Saturdays.

The Recreation Center, 550 Bell street, will be supervised from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. Supervision will also be available from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday evenings.

MENLO PARK MID PENINSULA BUSINESS DIRECTORY

THE ANGELUS, store of religious articles, imports and distinctive gifts, is situated at 1130 University drive, Menlo Park, and is owned and operated by Pauline G. Spires. Since opening at the present location three years ago, the store has attracted a large patronage. Every article is carefully selected, and in addition to religious arts, books, and imported gifts, there is an outstanding collection of imported woodcarvings and crystal. Choice gift items will be found here as well as a fine selection of cards for all occasions. Telephone number of the establishment is DAvenport 5-6144. Store is open week days from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. including Saturdays. Miss Spires, who has spent much time and study in her field, resides in Menlo Park.

TROPICAL POOLS, owned principally by A. E. Davis and R. K. Jernberg, features construction and complete maintenance of swimming pools, and also provide chemicals and pool equipment for owners and contractors. Situated at 2856 Middlefield road, Redwood City, the firm moved here a year ago from Mountain View, and it is starting in its fifth season. Peninsula-wide service is offered, and an engineer for the company custom designs pools for patrons. Three year term improvement loans can be arranged, and the company will assist qualified owners in arranging other financing with terms as low as $20 a month for the pools with no down payment. Complete service and other information can be obtained by telephoning Tropical Pools at EM 8-9238.

JANES SWIMMING SCHOOL, 550 Willow road, Menlo Park, is owned by Addison Janes, who opened the fourth season at the present location on March 26 after remodeling, repainting, and installing a new filter system in the pool. Janes, who also operates the Green Meadow Community association pool, has been a swimming instructor since 1934, and formal class lessons are given to small groups with each pupil instructed according to his needs. Classes are open to children over two years of age and to adults, and special tiny tot classes are arranged to encourage but not force children in the art of swimming. Janes is an instructor in elementary school in Palo Alto. Full information on classes can be obtained by calling DAvenport 5-6372.

Talent Shows Special Events At Playgrounds

"Talent shows" are on the special event agendas at Menlo Park's supervised playgrounds next week, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Gayle Thompson who is in charge.

The affairs, which are designed to encourage the parents to come to the playgrounds and see their children at their best, will be held during evening hours where possible, Mrs. Thompson explained. The talent shows are a preliminary to the annual all-city playlet contest, which will be held Aug. 3 at Burgess park gym.

First of the series will be held Monday at Willow school multi-use room, beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Hillview school playground patrons and their counterparts at Belle Haven school playground will also present with the one at Hillview being held in the crafts room and the Belle Haven show going on in the multi-use room.

Nealon park's show will be held at 7 p.m. the same evening, in Little House auditorium.

James Flood school's talent show will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the crafts room at the school.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Thompson said, names of playlets to be presented have been designated by directors at the several grounds.

Hillviewites are going to have a playlet about "Pinocchio;" Willow, "Peter Pan;" Belle Haven, "Shoemaker and the Elves;" James Flood, "12 Dancing Princesses" and Nealon park, undecided as of early this week.

Class Signups Open Today At Burgess Gym

Youngsters who didn't get a chance to register in time for first sessions of classes in tennis, archery and swimming at Burgess park this summer were this week urged to get in on the second sessions of classes, by registering at the gym between 9 a.m. and noon today.

The archery class is beginning its last session of the summer, according to rec department officials. There will be two more sets of swim and tennis classes, however, before the close of summer.

In all cases, there will be several grades of classes, depending on the proficiency of participants.

For archers, there are classes from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. at Burgess park's athletic field; Tennis classes are held at Menlo-Atherton high school with a session from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. daily for beginners and from 10 a.m. to 1 a.m. for advanced beginners and from 11 a.m. to 2 noon, intermediate students. An additional class for intermediate beginners is held from noon to 1 p.m.

Marjorie Thoreson Bride of Richard Clennon Saturday

Now on a honeymoon trip which s taking them to Southern California and Lake Tahoe are Mr. and Mrs. Richard George Clennon (Marjorie Jean Thoreson) who were married at a double ring, 11 o'clock nuptial mass at St. Raymond's Catholic Church last Saturday.

Officiating at the ceremony was the bride's uncle, the Very Rev. August Fichter, who came here from St. Joseph's Parish in Jasper, Indiana, to perform the rituals.

Following the wedding, a garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Theodore Thoreson, on Wallea avenue.

ALTAR TAPERS

St. Raymond's was decorated with tall altar tapers and arrangements of white stock and gladioli. Annamarie Leibly of San Francisco, a close friend of the bride, was the wedding soloist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Marjorie was gowned in white organdy fashioned with a scooped neckline, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt which ended in a chapel length train. The neckline and sleeves were appliqued with embroidered roses which were repeated in a shower effect down the front of the skirt.

A coronet of lilies of the valley held the float-length double illusion veil and she carried a cascade shower arrangement of white roses, stephanotis, lillies of the valley and white orchids.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

Four attendants preceded the bride to the altar. They were Mrs. Thomas Payne of Oakland, matron of honor, Mrs. Louis Desmond of Sacramento, Suzanne Thoreson, the bride's sister, and Lucille Nunes of San Francisco, as bridesmaids.

Their dresses were of white organdy fashioned with scooped necklines, short sleeves and very full cocktail length skirts. Each tied a yellow velvet sash, of skirt length, at their waists. Mrs. Payne completed her ensemble with a bandeau of yellow and white muriel daisies over her hair and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The three bridesmaids wore bandeaux of yellow marguerites and carried an arrangement of the same flower.

Three year old Penny Payne, daughter of the Thomas Paynes of Oakland and the bride's godchild, was the flower girl and was frocked in fluffy yellow dotted nylon net and carried a basket of yellow and white daisies. She, too, wore a bandeau of marguerites in her hair.

Standing with the benedict as best man was his twin brother, Robert Clennon, of Denver, Colorado. Guests were shown to their places by Louis Desmond, Richard Pond of Oakland and Robert Ahern of San Francisco.

Immediately following the nuptial mass, a garden reception was held at the Thoreson home. Receiving with the bridal party, Mrs. Thoreson was wearing a steel grey silk sheath with mauve pink accessories and a feather trimmed velvet chapeau. She completed her ensemble with pink cimbidium orchids. Mrs. Martin George Clennon, who was here from Denver with her husband to attend their son's wedding,chose a golden beige silk suit-dress with which she wore matching accessories and bronze cimbidium orchid corsage.

DEPARTURE

As the couple left for their honeymoon trip, the new Mrs. Clennon was wearing a blue and white silk print with a blue coat and white accessories. At her shoulder, she pinned the white orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The bride's sister, Suzanne, caught the wedding bouquet.

The newlyweds will make their home in Oakland when they return from their wedding trip.

Marjorie was graduated from Holy Names High School in Seattle and attended San Jose State College and the University of Hawaii. She received her degree from Holy Names College in Oakland.

The benedict attended the University of Tulsa and was graduated from Denver University where he made Sigma Chi his campus headquarters.

Among the pre-nuptial parties for the young couple was the champagne cocktail event given to honor them at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel July 5 and hostessed by Miss Nunes.

Long Time Resident Is Bride

On a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe are Mr. and Mrs. William Hornby (Mrs. Fay Kennedy) who were married last Saturday at the Baptist Church in Redwood City. Mrs. Hornby, a long time resident of Menlo Park, and her husband will make their home on Arbor road here.

The Rev. Rowland Edgeworth officiated at the wedding. Mr. E. R. Griffin of Crescent City came here to give his daughter's hand in marriage. The bride chose a dress of French blue over which she wore a navy blue topper. Her accessories matched the color of her dress and her flowers were white orchids.

Her daughter, Mrs. Robert (Virginia) Allenby stood as matron of honor and wore a white dress with red accessories and a red corsage. The bride's son, Robert Kennedy, was best man.

The Allenby home on Harvard road was the locale for the reception which was attended by relatives of the couple. Among the out-of-town guests were the bride's two sisters and brothers-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doyle of Crescent City, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morrison of Santa Rosa, and the bride's sister-in-law, Elizabeth Griffin of Eureka.

BRIDAL SHOWER

The new Mrs. Hornby was honored prior to her wedding at a bridal shower given by her daughter and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Allenby and Mrs. Kennedy, at the former's home. A pink color scheme was used in the decor of roses and sweetpeas. The guests toasted the honoree with champagne cocktails and later in the afternoon, refreshments were served.

Present at the shower were Ann Horn, Betty Barnett, Lola Reynolds, Mary Asvis, Emma Wilkins, Adele Miller, Beth Hawkins, Erma Stephins, Viona Mangispel, Sue Jones, Kay Hall, Olga Fickes, Ann Gilberg, Esther Sinno, Eileen Skarabo and Marion Sommers.

Cecelia Hile, Peter Royce To Be Wed

Excitement fills the air at the Frank Hile home, 447 Larkspur drive, East Palo Alto, in preparation for the wedding of their daughter, Cecelia, who will become the bride next Sunday of Peter Royce in the garden of the Hillsborough home of Peter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Royce.

Also filling the busy schedule are the plans which will take Mr. and Mrs. Hile and their daughter, Judy, and son, Frankie, to Salt Lake City, Utah, where Mr. Hile has been transferred and where the family will make their home.

For next Sunday's 2 o'clock wedding, Judy will assume the role of maid of honor for her sister. Nick Balsnick of Hawaii will be best man.

Cecelia was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School and attended San Mateo Junior College. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wetzstein of San Francisco.

The benedict attended Menlo School and College. Following their wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will return to the peninsula and in the fall will go to Reno where they will both attend the University of Nevada. Cecelia will continue her studies in English and Peter will finish his work toward an engineering degree.

Peter's grandmothers are Mrs. Royce of San Francisco and Mrs. Sill of San Mateo.

—Pat Berreman.

Wedding Party Is Named for July 28 Rites

The attendants for the wedding of Paula Pace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Pace of Menlo Park, and Robert L. Davis, have been named by the couple for the ceremonies which will take place July 28 at 4 p.m. at the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel.

Paula has asked her sister, Mrs. Robert Waterman of Menlo Park, to be her matron of honor. The bridesmaids will include Paula's cousin, Gloria Ge Bauer of Los Angeles, Ann Harper of Palo Alto and Ginger Smith of Sacramento. The bride's niece, Debbie Waterman, will be the flower girl.

The future benedict has asked California Senator John F. (Jack) Thompson to be best man and ushers will be William Bennett of Mountain View, his brother-in-law, and Niel Gustesen of Palo Alto and Robert Waterman.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Davis of Stanford where Mr. Davis is chief of police on the campus.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND BYLER are entertaining their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Martinson of Syracuse, New York, and their children, Judy and Douglas. Mrs. Martinson is the former Kathie Byler.

Kiddies Stage Show:

Carnival Brightens Summer Lull

If you're having a little difficulty entertaining the younger generation these carefree summer days, you might take a lesson from a group of children living on Cambridge avenue.

The story began some three weeks ago when Gail Handfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Handfield, and Wendy King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan King, found the days long and empty and decided to start plans for a Kiddy Carnival.

Wheels began churning . . . plans were made . . . and the hustle and bustle of their project was climaxed last Thursday evening when they staged their carnival attended by some 32 parents and friends.

The Carnival was held in the back yard of the Handfield home, 848 Cambridge avenue . . . tickets were sold for five cents each . . . small charges were made for the various booths and games . . . and when the successful evening was over, the coffers netted $7. The money will be turned over to the Children's Health Council by the young people.

For the variety show, Lucy Fogarty took the role of mistress of ceremonies . . . Molly Reignpach entertained with a pantomime . . . two-year-old Denise Ellison stole the show with her Hawaiian dance learned last year in Hawaii . . . Glen and Alice Shore, with the aid of Gail and Wendy, went "on stage" as the "Tillicum Tumblers" . . . Joanne Saunders and Linsey King were technicians at the phonograph . . . Joyce Howard assisted with the booths.

One of the highlights of the evening was the fish pond to which each child donated an article. They had a big pasteboard clown for carnival goers to toss ping pong balls in his mouth . . . they had broad jumping.

The carnival began at 7 o'clock and continued through until 9:30 . . . and when it became dark, the youngsters lighted candles which they had placed in tin cans and over which they put paper bags to make a lantern effect.

All planned and executed by the youngsters, the Kiddy Carnival was a very great success . . . and satisfying, too, when they donated their proceeds for a benefit organization.

'Buried Treasure' is Theme of Library Summer Reading Program

An intriguing game is going on at the Menlo Park Library where children are "digging for buried treasure in books."

The game has been organized by the local librarians as a pirate treasure hunt to encourage worthwhile vacation-time reading for local children in the children's summer reading program, according to Miss Joan Rucker, head librarian.

An eye-catching display of pirate posters and an antique pirate treasure chest filled with "pieces of eight" and sea shells has been set up near the main entrance of the library.

Any young book borrower who wishes to join the treasure hunt is invited to sign the ship's log of the "S.S. Good Reading." When the reader has finished a book, he signs his name on a "gold" piece and drops it in the treasure chest. When five books are completed, the reader may place his or her name on the treasure hunt poster.

The object of the game is to see how many "pieces of eight" there will be in the chest by the end of the summer.

A TREASURE CHEST of wonderful summer reading is capitvating many a local youngster during the "school's out" session. The Menlo Park Library is conducting a reading game to encourage children to visit the library and to borrow books. Among those enjoying this activity are Marilyn Miller and George Warfel (behind the chest), Susan Seidelman (seated front) and Ann Warfel. —Recorder photo

Among the local children whose names are already on the treasure hunt poster are Kurt Schnepple, Robert Eldredge, Leonard Hall, Cara Lee Williams, Joey Erickson, Coralie Byrms, Ann Yaggy, Susan and Joyce Regel, Jane and Nancy Hammond, Cathy Blumlein and Jill and Rick Tussle.

One of the popular books on the Menlo Park Library shelves is "Caddie Woodlawn," by Carol Ryrie, which relates a warm story of a pioneer family in Wisconsin. "Family Sabbatical," penned by the same authoress, tells of a professor who takes his family to France on a sabbatical leave and hires a French tutor to teach his family French . . . with the young family teaching the tutor American slang.

For children who especially like animal stories are books by Robert Lawson whose main characters are rabbits in addition to beavers and chipmunks. Of course, there is the popular "Wyatt Earp" story by Olga Hawll-Quest . . . and a new book, "Carry On, Mr. Bowditch," by Jean Lee Latham who won the Newbery medal award for 1956.

Mrs. William H. Gropp and Mrs. Herbert A. Jones, members of the Book Section of the Menlo-Atherton Branch of the American Association of University Women, assisted in getting the library's pirate display in readiness.

Library hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. week days and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. On Tuesday afternoons from 4 to 4:30 p.m. there is a story hour for young children sponsored and staffed by the members of the Peninsula Story Guild.

Par Avance Lists Events For Benefits

The first summer party of the season for the Par Avance Club of the Peninsula, a philanthropic organization, was held yesterday at the Los Altos home of Mrs. Oscar Brede.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Thomas B. McKee, Mrs. Dorothea Condon, both of Menlo Park, Mrs. Peggy Van Noy of Palo Alto and Mrs. William Dance of Los Altos.

Although yesterday's luncheon and afternoon of bingo was a social event, the fall and spring monthly meetings are given over to the purpose of the organization. Par Avance, which means "for advancement," was founded in 1934 and is limited to a membership of 88 covering the entire area from San Francisco to Los Altos. There are approximately 15 members from the Menlo Park, Atherton and Woodside area.

From October through June, Par Advance holds regular monthly luncheon meetings at the Villa Chartier at which time members hear noted speakers in diversified fields.

One of the projects of Par Avance is the engineer scholarship fund. The group also gives assistance to the veterans hospital Christmas fund, the San Mateo Crippled Children's Society, and to local drives for Community Chest, Cancer Society, Infantile Paralysis, the Heart Association, the Red Cross and others.

Also on the list of charities is the organization's annual contribution to the Bob O'Brien Recreation Club for Boys in addition to several camperships for local organizations.

Officers for the peninsula organization are:

Mrs. Lachlin McKinnon of Hillsborough, president; Mrs. O. M. Brede of Los Altos, vice president; Mrs. A. O. Schlichtman of Burlingame, secretary; Mrs. Jack Reading of San Mateo, treasurer; Mrs. E. H. Jenanyan of Redwood City, parliamentarian; Mrs. Lloyd Aubrey of Menlo Park, auditor.

Menlo School Grad Weds at Sunday Rite

David Frank Beatty, a graduate of Menlo School of Business, and his bride, the former Barbara Edith Baumeister, are honeymooning in Hawaii following their July 8 wedding at St. Mathew's Episcopal Church in San Mateo.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Werner Baumeister of Burlingame and the benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ernest Beatty of Hillsborough.

4 O'CLOCK RITE

For the 4 o'clock ceremony, the bride chose a gown by Bianchi embroidered in white organdy with a square neckline, short sleeves, fitted bodice and an ankle length skirt of embroidered organdy. Her fingertip veil was of bridal illusion and she wore short white kid gloves embroidered with seed pearls. Her bouquet was an old fashioned arrangement of lillies of the valley and white elf roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. James Trabucco (Dorothy Beatty), the bridegroom's sister, who was married at the same church on June 10 and who flew to the coast from her home in Washington, D. C. to attend her brother's wedding.

The bridesmaids were Caroline Clark, Nancy Jensen, Karlene Han and Nancy Nyeland, all Stanford University classmates of the bride.

The attendants' gowns were of white cupioni silk fashioned with full circular skirts, of ankle length, basque bodices and square necklines. They wore matching pleated headbands and carried old fashioned floral bouquets.

The flower girl was Robin Clute, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clute of Hillsborough.

Robert Duncan of San Mateo was the best man and ushers were Philip Baumeister, the bride's brother, David Shallenberger of Santa Rosa, Charles Guth Jr., of Belmont and uncle of the bridegroom, and Frank Wheeler Jr. of San Mateo.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Hillsborough Raquet Club where the decor included white stock, delphiniums, carnations and gladioli.

The couple will make their home in Belmont when they return from their wedding trip.

The new Mrs. Beatty was a Powers model before enrolling at Stanford University. On the campus, she was chosen Stanford University Campus queen.

In addition to attending Menlo School of Business, the benedict also attended the University of California. He is now associated in business in San Francisco.

Morris-Plath Attendants For August 4

Invitations were received this week for the wedding of Donna Carol Morris of Menlo Park and William Fritz Vincent Plath of Redwood City, who will be married Saturday, August 4, at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church.

Father Eugene Duggin will officiate at the 2 o'clock ceremony. Donna has asked Mrs. Edward Haussler to be her matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Mrs. Robert B. Morris, Donna's sister-in-law, of Palo Alto, and Mrs. Angelo Scutero (Regina Louise Plath), the bride's future sister-in-law.

Bill will have his brother, Christian Charles Plath as his best man and ushers will be Thomas Oliver and Edward Haussler, both of Redwood City.

Donna is the only daughter of Mrs. Don L. Morris (Claire L. Morris) of Menlo Park and the late Mr. Morris. Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Drew Plath of Redwood City.

A reception will be held at the Redwood City Women's Club.

Janet Gomes, James McCabe are Married at Sunday Ceremonies

On a honeymoon to Clear Lake are Mr. and Mrs. James McCabe (Janet Marcie Gomes) who were married Sunday at 3 o'clock double ring ceremonies at St. Francis of Assisi Church.

A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Gomes on Bell street, East Palo Alto.

The church was decorated with arrangements of white stock and white carnations for the afternoon ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white waltz length frock of lace over taffeta fashioned with a fitted lace bodice, cap sleeves, sabrina neckline, and bouffant skirt. Her fingertip length veil was held by an embroidered crown accented with tiny pearls. She completed her wedding ensemble with a pearl necklace and carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered with white orchids.

BRIDE-ELECT ATTENDS

In the role of maid of honor was Patricia Nolan who recently announced her engagement to Bob Harper. She wore white embossed nylon over orchid taffeta of waltz length and fashioned with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves, a scooped neckline and very full skirt. The skirt was edged in orchid. She carried an arrangement of yellow carnations.

Susan Gomes, the bride's sister, was the junior bridesmaid and chose a frock of pink evelet organdy over pink taffeta. Her bouquet was an old fashioned arrangement of summer flowers matching the color of her dress.

The ring bearers were Janet's six-year-old twin brothers, Phillip and Steven, who were dressed identically as the benedict, best man and ushers in white jackets and dark trousers. Phillip and Steven carried white pillows bearing the rings.

Bob Harper stood as best man and ushers were Joe Perez and Clifford Phillips. The Rev. Richard T. Howley officiated at the wedding. Presiding at the organ was Judy Culver.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the garden of the bride's parents' home. The bridal table was set with the wedding cake and arrangements of pink and white carnations and stock.

Greeting the guests, Mrs. Gomes chose a sheath of white lace over blue with matching accessories. Mrs. Alfred James of Long Beach, mother of the benedict, wore a white linen ensemble trimmed in yellow and wore yellow accessories.

As the couple departed from the reception locale, the new Mrs. McCabe was wearing an all white ensemble of a cotton lace sheath with the orchids from her bouquet.

In addition to her twin brothers and her sister Susan, Janet has another brother, Carlton. She was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School and attended San Jose State last year.

Her husband is the son of Mrs. James and the late James McCabe. He attended school in San Diego.

The couple will make their home in Palo Alto.

Hazzenfritz-Craven Rites:

Wedding Held at Home

A home on Live Oak lane in Menlo Park will be established by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley K. Craven (Joyce Lynne Hassenfritz) who were married at 4 o'clock ceremonies last Friday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hassenfritz on Bay road.

The large corner fireplace in the Hassenfritz home was the immediate setting for nuptials read by the Rev. Ernest Lidell of the San Mateo Congregational Church. Massive arrangements of white stock, daisies and carnations were set on the mantel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina length frock of embroidered tulle fashioned with a bouffant skirt, sweetheart neckline and a short jacket matching the material of her gown. A small heart shaped cap held the fingertip length veil. Both her dress and veil were trimmed with tiny seed pearls.

The bride carried a heart shaped bouquet of stephanotis and bouvardia with a detachable corsage of white orchids.

Joyce was attended by her two sisters, Mrs. Robert L. Kensinger of Provo, Utah, and Darla Gayle Hassenfritz, a student at Menlo-Atherton High School. Mrs. Kensinger chose a ballerina length frock of white nylon dotted with pink rosebuds. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink, blue and white carnations. Darla wore a frock identical to the matron of honor only in pink and also carried an old fashioned nosegay of the same flowers.

The benedict asked George F. Miller of Belmont to stand as best man. Robert L. Kensinger was the usher.

The wedding music was from an antique organ played by the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Edith O. Smith.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hassenfritz wore an iridescent taffeta of grey and pink tones with grey accessories. Her flowers were pink sweetheart roses. Unable to attend the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. L. Craven of Crafton, Pennsylvania, who were attending the wedding of another son, Markley.

Immediately following the ritual, a reception was held in the gardens of the Hassenfritz home where the decor was carried out with yellow and white daisies and garden greenery. About 45 guests attended last Saturday's wedding and reception.

As the newlyweds left for their honeymoon to Lake Tahoe and Yosemite, the new Mrs. Craven was wearing a navy blue and white ensemble with white accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

Joyce was graduated from San Mateo High School and San Mateo Junior College. She is employed by Stanford Research Institute.

The benedict, who has a twin brother, Newton, stationed in Korea, a brother, Edward, and a sister, Mrs. William Callendar of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, was graduated rfom Langley High School and a Pennsylvania aeronautics school. He is employed by an airline company.

'Fun Night' Set By Sisterhood

Members and guests of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob will convene for a "Low-Down Hoe-Down" Saturday evening, July 28, at the Temple in Redwood City.

The mid-summer fun night will be given over to a supper hour, square dancing, novel entertainment as well as regular ballroom dancing.

First Anniversary Sale of 'Market of the Flea' Is Staged by Retarded Children's Guild

Noting its first anniversary at a belated birthday sale this week is the "Market of the Flea" sponsored by the Retarded Children's Guild to raise funds to benefit the Children's Health Council.

Located at 627 Waverly street, Palo Alto, the "Market of the Flea" has such items as pictures, dishes bric a brac, objects of art and furniture . . . all donated to the market to be re-sold.

The Children's Health Council is a non-profit organization providing special medical services for children of the area. Its facilities include a nursery school for retarded children, a rehabilitation center for physically handicapped children and a guidance center for children with emotional difficulties.

In May, proceeds from the "Market" sales enabled the Retarded Children's Guild to donate $2500 to the Children's Health Council to be used for financing the first afternoon session of the Council's nursery school which will be opened around the middle of September. Up until this time, the nursery school for retarded children has been held in the morning . . . in the fall, there will be both a morning and afternoon session enabling the school to accommodate approximately 20 additional children.

The "Market of the Flea" is staffed by volunteer members of the Retarded Children's Guild and sells almost any item with the exception of clothing.

Among the local residents associated with the Guild include Mrs. Robert Richards, Mrs. John Tresidder, Mrs. Robert Condie, Mrs. Robert L. Martin, Mrs. Henry Crozier, Mrs. David Samuels and Mrs. Richard Wilbur.

Anyone interested in volunteering their assistance to the Children's Health Council are invited to contact the Council headquarters in Palo Alto.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS of the Retarded Children's Guild who staff the "Market of the Flea" this week are noting their first anniversary at a special sale at the shop. Proceeds from the "Market" go to the Children's Health Council nursery school for retarded children which will open a second session in the fall. Helping out at the "Market" are (left to right) Mrs. John Tresidder, vice-president of the Retarded Children's Guild, Mrs. Robert Condie, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Richards, president, all of Menlo Park.

Shopping in Menlo

with MERRIE PARKER

All of the fashion magazines are showing the grown-up gals in glamour togs for beach wear . . . and we'll venture that you have some young ones around the house who'd like to be just as grown-up, too ,when they finish their swim or are enjoying our casual out-of-doors living.

Your small fry would look very grown up and casual in a cute terry cloth jacket or one piece suit. Guys 'n Gals has these little outfits fashioned just like the ones the big folks wear . . . in white terry cloth that you can toss into the washing machine and have them come out a clean, bright white . . . and, of course, no ironing!

The jackets — they have two roomy pockets — are priced at $3.29. The one-piece dry-off set (shorts and top attached in one piece) has a zipper up the front to make it easy for the little ones to put on, and is priced at $3.49.

Another item we saw at Guys 'n Gals makes a nice gift for a baby shower. It's a plastic turtle in pink and blue which holds a thermometer used for checking the baby's bath water . . . and it can be used as a toy, too. It's $1.29.

* * *

We recalled our exasperating childhood days (and the old saying "born 30 years too soon") when our new crayons lost their pointed ends and we lost our tempers because we couldn't draw "just right" with the blunt end. And Mom had to stop her work to sharpen them with the kitchen knife . . . remember?

We saw just the thing to do away with these young-age blues. A crayola shapener at Menlo-Atherton Stationers . . . and for only 10 cents. This plastic crayola sharpener works just like a regular pencil sharpener, and your youngster can use it without any trouble . . . and no bother for Mom.

* * *

We're all out in this wonderful summer weather at one time or another . . . and many of us, forgetting that Old Sol's rays get mighty strong, tend to overstay now and then. But with so many items made just for our protection, we have little excuse for sometimes looking like Rudolph, that red-nosed reindeer.

At Preuss Pharmacy, we saw a plastic nose guard which can be attached to reading and sun glasses . . . and for only 10 cents. And for those who like to take a snooze in the sun there are "Sunnies" which fit protectively over your eyes and yet allow the area close to your eyes to get the sun . . . for 98 cents. And all kinds and shapes and sizes of sun glasses.

* * *

Housekeeping for busy Moms is certainly being made easier and more economical. Catching our attention at Menlo Park Hardware were disposable aluminum pans which you can use for cooking, freezing and storing food.

The pans come in several sizes and shapes . . . round and square . . . and are especially good for casseroles, vegetable dishes, deep-dish apple pies . . . as a matter of fact, all kinds of bakery. You bake right in the pans . . . and put them in your freezer for future use.

Although they are disposable, you can also wash them and reuse them. With these aluminum pans, there's no paper taste and no sogginess. They are reasonably priced, too, ranging from 36 cents for a package of six small pans, to 49 cents for a package of three large ones.

* * *

To make our favorite summer dinners look even more tempting, we all hesitate using tablecloths because they are easily soiled.

We saw some very handsome cloths at Stevens this week which are really like magic . . . they have a special finish so you can wipe up many liquids and stains (the non-oily kind) with hardly a trace of a mark. When the little folks at your dinner table spill milk or food, chances are you can wipe it right up and still have a clean cloth.

The cloths are of rayon and cotton . . . and, when you do want to wash them, you can drip dry them, and they need little or no ironing. The prints are in, pretty, soft shades of pink, gray, beige, tan, aqua and apple green . . . and a 52"x52" cloth for $3.98, a 52"x70" size for $4.98.

Representative Of PV's Attends 'Aging' Confab

Mrs. Merrill Spalding represented the Peninsula Volunteers at the ninth annual conference on "Aging" at the University of Michigan Monday through Wednesday of this week.

The conference was entitled "Health for the Aging." Mrs. Spalding discussed the Little House film "Success Story" during the workshop which dealt with the topic "Creating the Climate for Healthful Living in the Later Years Through Activities." She also took part in a round table discussion of evaluating programs and recommendations from the workshop discussion.

Little House is a senior activity center in Menlo Park and is sponsored by the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc. Mrs. Spalding was Little House chairman for the past two years and has taken an active part in the Peninsula Volunteers.

Lucille Monzani Sets August 5 For Wedding, Home Reception

A wedding on August 5 is being planned by Lucille Monzani of Menlo Park when she will become the bride of Vernon L. Burgess of San Carlos at St. Charles Catholic Church in San Carlos.

The engagement is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Monzani of San Mateo drive. Lucille was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School and attended the College of San Mateo where she was a member of the Art Club. She is currently employed in Menlo Park. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Boskey of Daly City and Mr. and Mrs. O. Ferrai of San Mateo.

Vernon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burgess of San Carlos. He was graduated from Sequoia High School and is attending the College of San Mateo. He served in the Army and is employed by a color television corporation while attending school.

For their August 5 nuptials, Lucille has asked Mrs. Robert Burgess, Vernon's sister-in-law, to attend as matron of honor. Carol Fogle and Bobbi Ludemann will be the bridesmaids.

Vernon has asked his brother, Robert, to stand as best man and the ushers will be Chuck Amundson and Don Johnson.

A reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents in Menlo Park and the couple will make their home in Belmont.

THE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Notthoff on Nancy way was the recent setting for a potluck supper attended by close neighbors to bid "welcome" to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Helmke who have just moved to Menlo Park and to say "goodbye" to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller who are leaving to make their home in Oregon.

Lois McKenna is Wed at Tahoe

Formal announcements have been received by friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McKenna of Atherton telling of the marirage of their daughter, Lois, to Robert C. Golobic, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Golobic of Menlo Park.

Lois and Bob, who announced their engagement last December, eloped to Lake Tahoe June 29 and were accompanied by the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Stewart C. Woodard of Los Altos.

Both young people are graduates of Menlo-Atherton High School and Lois is currently employed at a local dress shop. Bob attended Menlo College and in the fall will continue his studies at Stanford University where he will be a senior. Phi Gamma Delta is his fraternity.

The bride is the sister of Mrs. Jack Meltzer of Sunnyvale and Ken McKenna. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Rose McKenna of Palo Alto and Roy L. Robison of Sparks, Nevada.

Bob has a sister and brother, Nancy and Dennis Golobic, and is the grandson of Mrs. John Golobic Sr. of Menlo Park.

The couple will make their home in Palo Alto.

MISS MARY ANN NAYLOR, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Naylor of 720 Olive avenue, was honored at a brunch on her 16th birthday recently. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Scaroni Jr., and two children and Mrs. Calvin Pohlman.

What's Doing Among 'Teen-Agers

No amount of talking or writing we could do could express as well as the number of parties given how nice the weather and vacation are! For instance, one group taking advantage of the warm afternoon and evening could be found at Terry Baker's, where he and Hal Wyman were hosting a swimming-dancing-ping pong and barbecue party! And now, the only thing left to tell you is the guest list—composed of Lynne Hills, Judy Gough, Paula Elsner, Mary Lou Parham, Mike Fallon, Henry Fullenwider, Al Luchini, Marlene Rudolph, Kent Flanders and Cathy Davis.

We mentioned last week we'd try to give you the lowdown on the choir school at San Anselmo which Karen Haynes, Marge Plaisted and Faye Johnson attended. According to the gals, it was just great! They had classes in everything from singing and conducting (which they went to) to organ repertoire (which they avoided). Three times they went into S.F., and their whole stay was climaxed by a joint concert between the junior choir and the adult.

And to top off the whole thing after the concert, the girls, plus Dave Hall, Gord Plaisted, Jill Kudlick, Mickey Pierce, Linda Price, Mike Lewis, Blair Barnitz and Mike Barnitz, adjourned to the City for a huge pizza feed.

* * *

Unfortunately, in summer, some of the parties are farewells to friends who may be moving to all points of the globe—such a party was the one given for Nelda Rayburn by Peg Snyder. Los Angeles is Nelda's eventual destination—but before she gets there, she will spend some time in Arizona and a guest ranch in Colorado.

One of her nicest memories o here, though, is the luncheon given by Peg. After a delicious chicken salad and dessert, the gals settled down to some steady canasta playing and after a hard fought battle for the booby prize, Lindsey King was awarded it, while Gail Morrison was high point man. Other players included Linda Crawford, Cathy Davis, Sandy Dill and Dotty Grove.

* * *

When summer begins, so does another organization—the Palo Alto Teen Players. Actually plans are being made all during the winter by the board, which this year included from M-A Rhoda Maxfield, chairman, Garth Stevick, Greig Gowdy, Hubert Pate and Sue Fogle. After much discussion "Time Out for Ginger" was finally chosen as this year's production to be presented August 10 and 11 and working on the show, according to sign-ups, will be Holly Millar, Barbara de Angeles, Clyde Olsen, Diane Ackerman, Pat Kerwin, Ann Bartells, Gary Breeding, Marge Hirsch, Diane Mazonas, Darlene Anderson, Sandy Dill, Carol Drury, Gary Bolton, Tom Barrientos and Lynn Silverman.

* * *

Summer parties come in another type, other than farewell and "enjoy the great outdoors"—introductions of summer guests or new students. This last kind describes Sue Lampman's party fairly accurately, for she was introducing her cousin, Joan Billings from Long Beach, to her friends. The gals—including Barbara Maider, Barbara Buckholtz, Pat Meek, Marilyn Menta, Jane Benidt, Cheryl Barnes, Bonnie Bryson and Linda Allio—spent a lovely afternoon getting acquainted over snacks and swimming.

* * *

Southern fried chicken appeal to you? That's what the lucky guests at Faye Johnson's had for dinner, and topped that off with a show. Those fortunate and stuffed gals included Jo Broeren, Sue Samuels, Donna Newport and Sharon Moore.

Hamburgers and hot dogs taste pretty good, too, especially when barbecued and served with all sorts of trimmings. That was the menu for the guys and gals at Judy Gough's, who later went out for miniature golf, then came back to her home for dancing. Present and accounted for were Betty Aced, Kent Flanders, Mary Lou Parham, Hal Wyman, Terry Baker, Mike Fallon and Paula Elsner.

* * *

ODDS 'N' ENDS—working people we heard of recently include Rena Lao and Lance Fuller, who are slaving away for a delicatessen, Owen Hawkins, who genially waits on people at a gas station, Janice Nakinishi, who is on the other side of a counter at a clothing store, Sue Lampman, who's helping out an advertising agency and Bob Samuels, who's spending a week up at Yosemite, putting up fences and digging wells . . . and Marcia Davidove, Amos Roos and Julie Eichorn have returned from a meeting on "prejudice," held at Lake Tahoe.

* * *

The winner of the Miss Menlo-Atherton Beauty contest was announced (in case you didn't read the front page) as being Amrette Ott — she came home, not only with a trophy, but a camera. Others in the contest included Wardeen Miller, second place; Diane Sullivan, Yvonne Tomasena, Sue Baughn, Carol Shannon and Pat and Liz Gullison.

* * *

One last party, then we're all through for the week, and that last is —Marlene Rudolph's surprise party for Marge Plaisted!

Poor Marge didn't know what was happening, since she was kidnapped while peacefully sitting in her own home! Taken to Marlene's, she was greeted by a yell of "Surprise!" from the guests. She soon recovered though, and spent a wonderful time eating, dancing, playing games, and receiving a huge scrapbook from all the guests.

The guests, by the way, were Linda Crawford, Liz Ramp, Jenny Bartells, Peg Snyder, Cathy Davis, Sharon Edwards, Joan Stickney, Jilll Kudlick, Julie Eichron, Pete Hayes, Dave Hall, Mike Barnitz, Blair Barnitz, Dave Morley, Ted Huffcut, Rudy Ramp, John Till, Al Luchini, Colin Clark, Mickey Pierce, Gord Plaisted and Don Genasci.

Please, again we ask that if you know of any parties, give a holler to DA 3-1909. And joke (?)—Salesman—"Yes, sir, that's the smartest hat in the store." Buyer—"It doesn't need to be smart—I'll put the brain in it."

VISITING WITH their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ferriera on Laurel street, are Antoinette, Cathy and Linda McLoughlin of Sacramento.

Local Families Enjoy Summer Travel Trips

Home from a trip which took them to Montana, Wyoming, Illinois and Missouri are Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Anderson and daughters, Mary Jo and Patty. The local family took their trip by auto and were away three weeks visiting relatives. Mr. Anderson attended a business meeting in Missouri.

* * *

Enjoying their first trip east were Starr and Dale Culhane who have returned to their home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Culhane. The local family traveled via train to Detroit, Michigan, New York City, Hartford, Connecticut, and to Portland, Maine. They stayed about five days in each of the cities and returned home via a Salt Lake City stopover.

The Culhanes were away about five weeks.

* * *

A scenic trip through the Redwoods and a visit to the Oregon caves were among the highlights of the recent vacation trip for Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Harding and their daughter, Jill.

The localites continued their trip on into Idaho and returned by way of Reno, covering five states during their jaunt.

* * *

A two week vacation has been completed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rockwell and their daughters, Laura and Melanie, who motored to Colorado to visit relatives and friends.

The local family enjoyed the sights of Grand Canyon, Las Vegas and spent most of their time at Denver and Boulder.

Peninsula Story Guild Meets For Workshop; Schedule Told

Mrs. William MacCurdy opened her home on Rubin way Tuesday for the July workshop meeting of the Peninsula Story Guild.

The workshop consisted of stories told by Mrs. M. C. Dailey, Mrs. E. J. Willits and Mrs. William Postelwaite. The Peninsula Story Guild assists in the summer recreation programs for this area.

Members who have conducted story telling hours are Mrs. Carl Ericson and Miss Josephine Marshall, at the Menlo Park Library where story telling is scheduled for Tuesdays at 4 p.m.; Mrs. John Wotila and Mrs. E. J. Willits at Ladera School where youngsters have story time on Thursdays at 10:30 a.m.; Mrs. Postelwaite at Farrell Park, University Village, where stories are scheduled for Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Donald Sacks has told stories at Portola Valley School where the schedule of meetings takes place each Friday at 10 a.m.; Mrs. Robert Houston has conducted an hour's activity at Scout Haven in Burgess Park where meetings are held on Wednesdays at 12:30.

Anyone wishing further information on the Guild work and schedule may call Mrs. Houston, the chairman, at DA 5-5446.

MISS JAYNE WRIGHT entertained recently at the home of her mother, Mrs. Helen Hayes Wright in Atherton, for Carol Thompson of San Bruno who will become the bride of Robert C. Easley of San Mateo next Sunday.

Elwood Powell Residence is Setting for Reunion of High School Classmates

Members of a high school girls' club which formed several years ago at Caldwell, Idaho, testified to the permanence of such things last weekend, when they gathered at the Elwood M. Powell residence at 1811 Stanford avenue.

Eight of an original 14 members of the club—some travelling for hundreds of miles—spent a three-day weekend in Menlo Park. And 20 other Caldwell high school graduates residing within travelling distance journeyed to the Powell home for a reunion on Sunday.

The girls' club was known, at the time of its formation, as the BBIT's. The meaning of the initials hasn't been revealed but, Mrs. Powell said, the fact that it was just about the most harmonious group to form anywhere is attested by the fact that most of its members enrolled at College of Idaho, also at Caldwell, on graduation from the high school and, as the years have gone by, have maintained in touch with the other club members.

After the last members of the club left Caldwell, a round robin letter was instituted as a means of keeping in touch with one another.

And every five years or so, some member takes on the task of hostessing a reunion for all members who can attend.

Last weekend, the Powells acted as host and hostess to Mrs. James Stanton of Bakersfield, Mrs. Walter Barton of Seattle, Mrs. Vern Harper of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Frank Eastom of Boulder, Colo., Miss Elizabeth Kaley of Whittier, Mrs. Donald McCall of Compton and Mrs. Wayne Grammer of Murphy, Idaho.

Sometimes, Mrs. Powell explains, the girls bring their husbands along to the reunions, but this time the spouses were left at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell were happy to entertain the former school chums. Mrs. Powell states, because it may be the last chance the BBIT's will have to visit Menlo Park for one of their reunions.

Powell is being transferred to Chicago for business reasons, and the family will soon leave to make their home there.

RECENT VISITORS at Las Vegas, Nevada, were Mr. and Mrs. John Degracia and son, Johnnie, of Atherton. The localites headquartered at the Riviera during their stay at Las Vegas.

Newcomers Set Locales For Bridge

The first year Newcomers "Mr. and Mrs. Bridge Group" of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club will meet for bridge and refreshments at two homes Friday, July 20, at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pattee will open their home at 354 Encinal way, Menlo Park, with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Grotewohl assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard de Zur will also be hosts at their home in Linfield Oaks with Dr. and Mrs. Harry Whelan as co-hosts.

Couples belonging to the "Mr. and Mrs. Bridge Group" will be called for reservations.

Any member of the Newcomers Club interested in the bridge groups may obtain further information by contacting the chairman, Mrs. Duncan Williams, DA 4-2196.

RFD Thursday:

Woodside Residence Has Charming View

The Henry Beaumont Martins of Woodside own a fan shaped house that takes full advantage of the north, east and south view spreading from the bay to Portola Valley and the Skyline.

The road leading to the property on the hillside is wooded and winding and leads to a circular driveway. The massive door of the modern contemporary house is the imaginary handle of the fan . . . and from the immediate foyer is the large living room with bedrooms and the swimming pool area on the immediate right.

A feature of the interior is the enormous barbecue and fireplace and loggia between the living room and dining room of mammouth proportions. It is here that Rosalie and Henry serve their guests canapes and cocktails. Throughout the house are many antique treasures belonging to their families as well as those they have collected during their many travels.

A clever use of a large brass tray, hand-tooled by the natives of Fez in North Africa, is used as a coffee table and is designed with a large border of solid stained oak. Another interesting feature of the house is the highly waxed slate floors.

Recently the Martins entertained a few guests from the City including Dr. and Mrs. Francis Quinlan and the Shorb Steeles . . . also there were the Gordon Jasons and the Francis A. Hoyts.

* * *

Invitations for a cocktail party Saturday evening have been issued by the Fred Shermans . . . and another party scheduled for the week end is the fiesta birthday party hosted by Hugh Southgate for his wife, Coco, at their home on Alpine road.

* * *

A triple birthday party celebrated last weekend was hosted by the George Fullers when their cousin, Gloria Hihn, and Warner Law and Dr. Hubert Law were guests of honor. Warner and his wife, Jane, have just come up for a visit from their home in Los Angels, to be with the senior Laws at their home on Albion drive in Woodside. Dr. and Mrs. Law have just returned from a visit from the Tahoe area with the Otis Johnsons.

Also at Tahoe are the Edward McNears who will be the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Horace Jones of Los Gatos who have a summer home at Glenbrook.

Just returned from Tahoe are the John Brookes who entertained their newly married son, Robert, and his bride over this weekend in Woodside.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Musto, accompanied by her two children and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Musto, have just returned from Hawaii.

In Hawaii and on the island of Hana are the Edward O'Briens and their daughter, Nancy, who are occupying the Paul Brown house while the latter family is in Europe.

And planning a trip late this summer to Europe are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Judd who will sail on the S.S. Caronia . . . another trip planned for the fall which will include the East, Mexico and Havana will be made by the Herbert Armstrongs.

New President For Newcomers

Taking over as president of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club is Mrs. H. Arthur Hatch to succeed Mrs. Richard Drury who has resigned the presidency due to personal business reasons,

Mrs. Hatch, who steps up to the new office from the vice presidency, has lived in Menlo Park for the past 16 months. She moved here from Encino, in Southern California, with her husband and their son and three daughters, Scott, Sydney, Hillary and Lorry. Scott and Sydney attend Las Lomitas School. The family makes their home at 19 Montana lane.

Pro Deo Group Has Two Events

Two events served as a kick-off to a round of summer activities for members of the Pro Deo Youth Club of the Church of the Nativity.

Last Tuesday, club members attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Vocke for an afternoon of swimming and an evening highlighted by a barbecue and dancing.

On July 1, the group attended a beach party at Sea Cliff with about 40 members present. Following swimming, a barbecued supper was served. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Linly and Joan Harrington.

Color in Rugs Topic Today

"Color in Hooked Rugs" will be the topic today following the noon luncheon of the Peninsula Rugmakers' Guild at the home of Mrs. H. E. Hoffman, 506 West Portola drive, Los Altos.

Local residents interested in attending the meeting are invited. Mrs. Rose Witt, adult education instructor at San Carlos, will present the program and Mrs. Eleanor Rollings, former instructor of San Jose, will use a rug, now in the process of being made, to further illustrate the color topic.

Mrs. Emma Bridgewater is in charge of the luncheon. Mrs. John Macliver, president, will conduct the business meeting.

Frances Lee to Note Birthday

Celebrating her fifth birthday tomorrow will be Frances Lee, daugther of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee of Oak Knoll lane.

Frances has invited her friends for luncheon followed by an afternoon of games. Those who will help her celebrate her birthday are Mary Norton, Peter Huggins, Barbara and Beverly Hale, Debbie Sturz, Nancy Deius, Chip Anderson, Betty Bengston, and her three sisters, Lucy, Helen and Trisha Lee.

Atherton Artist to Open Show At Allied Arts Guild Monday

The third in the series of summer art exhibits to be shown at the Allied Arts Guild and presented under the auspices of the Woodside-Atherton Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home, is of special interest to peninsula residents as the artist, Louise Hahn (Mrs. W. Donald Fletcher) was born and raised in Atherton.

The local artist, whose paintings will be shown for two weeks beginning next Monday, was born and raised in the big white house on Glenwood and when that property was broken up a few years ago, she and her husband retained a part of it and built a new house and studio at 4 Fenwood drive where they live with their three children.

Like most peninsula children, Louise Hahn grew up to love horses and her earliest efforts at portraiture dealt exclusively with them. Later she tried her hand at copying movie stars' photographs for her high school friends and after studying at Ohio State College, she settled down to become a portrait artist.

She has continued to study, first with Frank Van Sloun and later with Peter Blos in San Francisco and San Mateo. Throughout the years, she has painted the portrait of many prominent Californians and is particularly well known for her pastels of children.

The artist has been a member of the Woodside-Atherton Auxiliary for many years and her mother was also active in Convalescent Home work and was the first president of the Senior Auxiliary.

The show may be seen in the rear garden of the Allied Arts Guild.

Artist Show At Woodside

Mrs. Lucille Wheeler, 360 Atherton avenue, Atherton, is currently being featured as the artist-of-the-month at the Whiskey Hill Traders at Woodside.

The local artist is studying with George Harris of Woodside and has exhibited in group shows at the Portola school and the Palo Alto Junior library. The show will be on exhibit at Whiskey Hill Traders until July 22. It is open daily and no admission is charged.

Brownies Hike, Play At Two-Week Camp

REPRESENTATIVE of many of the young Brownies who have been attending Brownie Day Camps this summer is this group of girls who are preparing a camp fire in readiness for cooking their meal. These girls have been attending the Oak Knoll Day Camp session. Watching Kathy Salz light the fire are (left to right) Nadya Luck, Trisha Lee, Susie Ashcraft, Mary Mattison, Robert Lewis and Helen Lee. —Recorder photo

For the past two weeks, Oak Knoll school grounds have been a beehive of activity with over 50 young Brownies attending the day camp session which ends today.

Taking part in the four day week, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. schedule, the girls' activities centered about an insect theme . . . with the children dividing into units and choosing names such as the "Bee" unit, the "Beetle" unit or the "Butterfly" unit. They also named their leaders with corresponding names.

Mrs. Robert Salz was the director of the camp and Mrs. Robert Walton was co-ordinator and business manager. Local mothers acting as leaders were Mrs. Richard Bellasis, Mrs. Howard Turner, Mrs. Clayton Anderson, Mrs. R. A. Herbst, Mrs. Charles Hitchcock, Mrs. Donald Rose, Mrs. J. Murray Luck and Mrs. James Lee.

Daily activities were organized by a kaper chart and each unit enjoyed a cook-out. Hikes were taken by the girls and their leaders to Stanford Creek, to the red barn at Stanford to the lake on the campus and to the Sharon estate. Treasure hikes were planned for each unit with a watermelon feed at the hunt's conclusion.

Activities for the two weeks also included crafts of many kinds, a flag ceremony in the morning and in the afternoon, songs, dancing games and wonderful meals, prepared by the Brownies.

Schools represented at the day camp were St. Raymond's, Oak Knoll, Hillview and Las Lomitas.

European Tour and Studies Fill Summer Trip of Localite

By PROXY

Now across the Atlantic enjoying a tour of Europe and to pursue further academic endeavors is a local young man who is planning a career as a professor. He is Robert Ehman, son of Commodore and Mrs. Hobart Ehman, of Valparaiso avenue, who sailed from Montreal the latter part of June with a group of students under the supervision of the University of Washington. Robert is currently touring the continent and then will go to the university at Munich to study German. Following his studies, he will go down to Italy . . . then to Copenhagen and return the latter part of September when he will continue as a senior at Pomona college where he is majoring in philosophy. He plans to further his studies at graduate school, either at Yale, Princeton or Harvard. Robert is a graduate of Menlo School for Boys.

* * * *

The A. W. Gale family home on Glenwood avenue was the setting recently for a bridal shower and garden luncheon hostessed by three sisters, Mrs. H. B. Doughty, Mrs. David Moore and Miss Susan Gale. The honored guest was Joyce Brophy who will become Mrs. Richard Phipps on August 18 at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church in Redwood City.

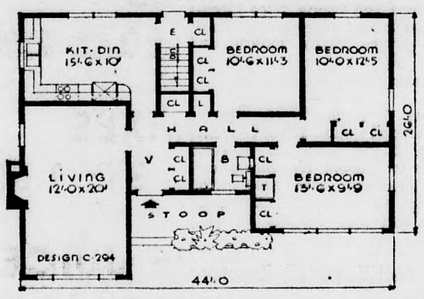

Assisting the hostesses was a quartette of sisters, Mrs. James Porter, Mrs. Joseph A. Scaroni Jr., and Misses Alida and Dorothy Moore. Guests were here from Redwood City, San Francisco, Mountain View and Walnut Creek and included the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. John Brophy of Redwood City, her grandmother, Mrs. Augustus O'Farrell of San Francisco, her mother's twin sister, Mrs. Frank Moran of San Francisco, and her aunt, Miss Mary Brophy, also down from the city.

Last Saturday, Joyce, who just graduated from Notre Dame College in Belmont, and Dorothy Moore attended a luncheon given in honor of Joyce by her grandmother, Mrs. O'Farrell, at the Lakeside Country Club in San Francisco.

Mrs. Richard Swint of Olive avenue, has bid adieu to her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cirivilleri formerly of San Diego and their two daughters, Joanne and Carolyn, who have been visiting here while locating a new home in the San Jose area. At the same time, Mrs. Swint had as her guests her nieces, Maureen and Saundra Dowling, who were enjoying a "school's out" vacation from San Mateo.

This Friday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Romanoff are entertaining her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Brackett of San Mateo, at a barbecue supper on the eve of the Bracketts' departure for two months in Europe. The trip will mark the second European visit for Mr. and Mrs. Brackett who went abroad three years ago.

An outgrowth of various committee meetings they attended during last December holiday party planning are the potluck parties which have become a series of gatherings for a group of localites. This Saturday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Bothel will be hosts for cocktails, supper and bridge and will greet Mr. and Mrs. James Collins, Dr. and Mrs. William Tevis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Harbordt, Mr. and Mrs. H. Arthur Hatch and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Romanoff.
